

I can't open my hands with these things on.

Then how do you get them off?

I don't know. Wh- havent you worn them before?

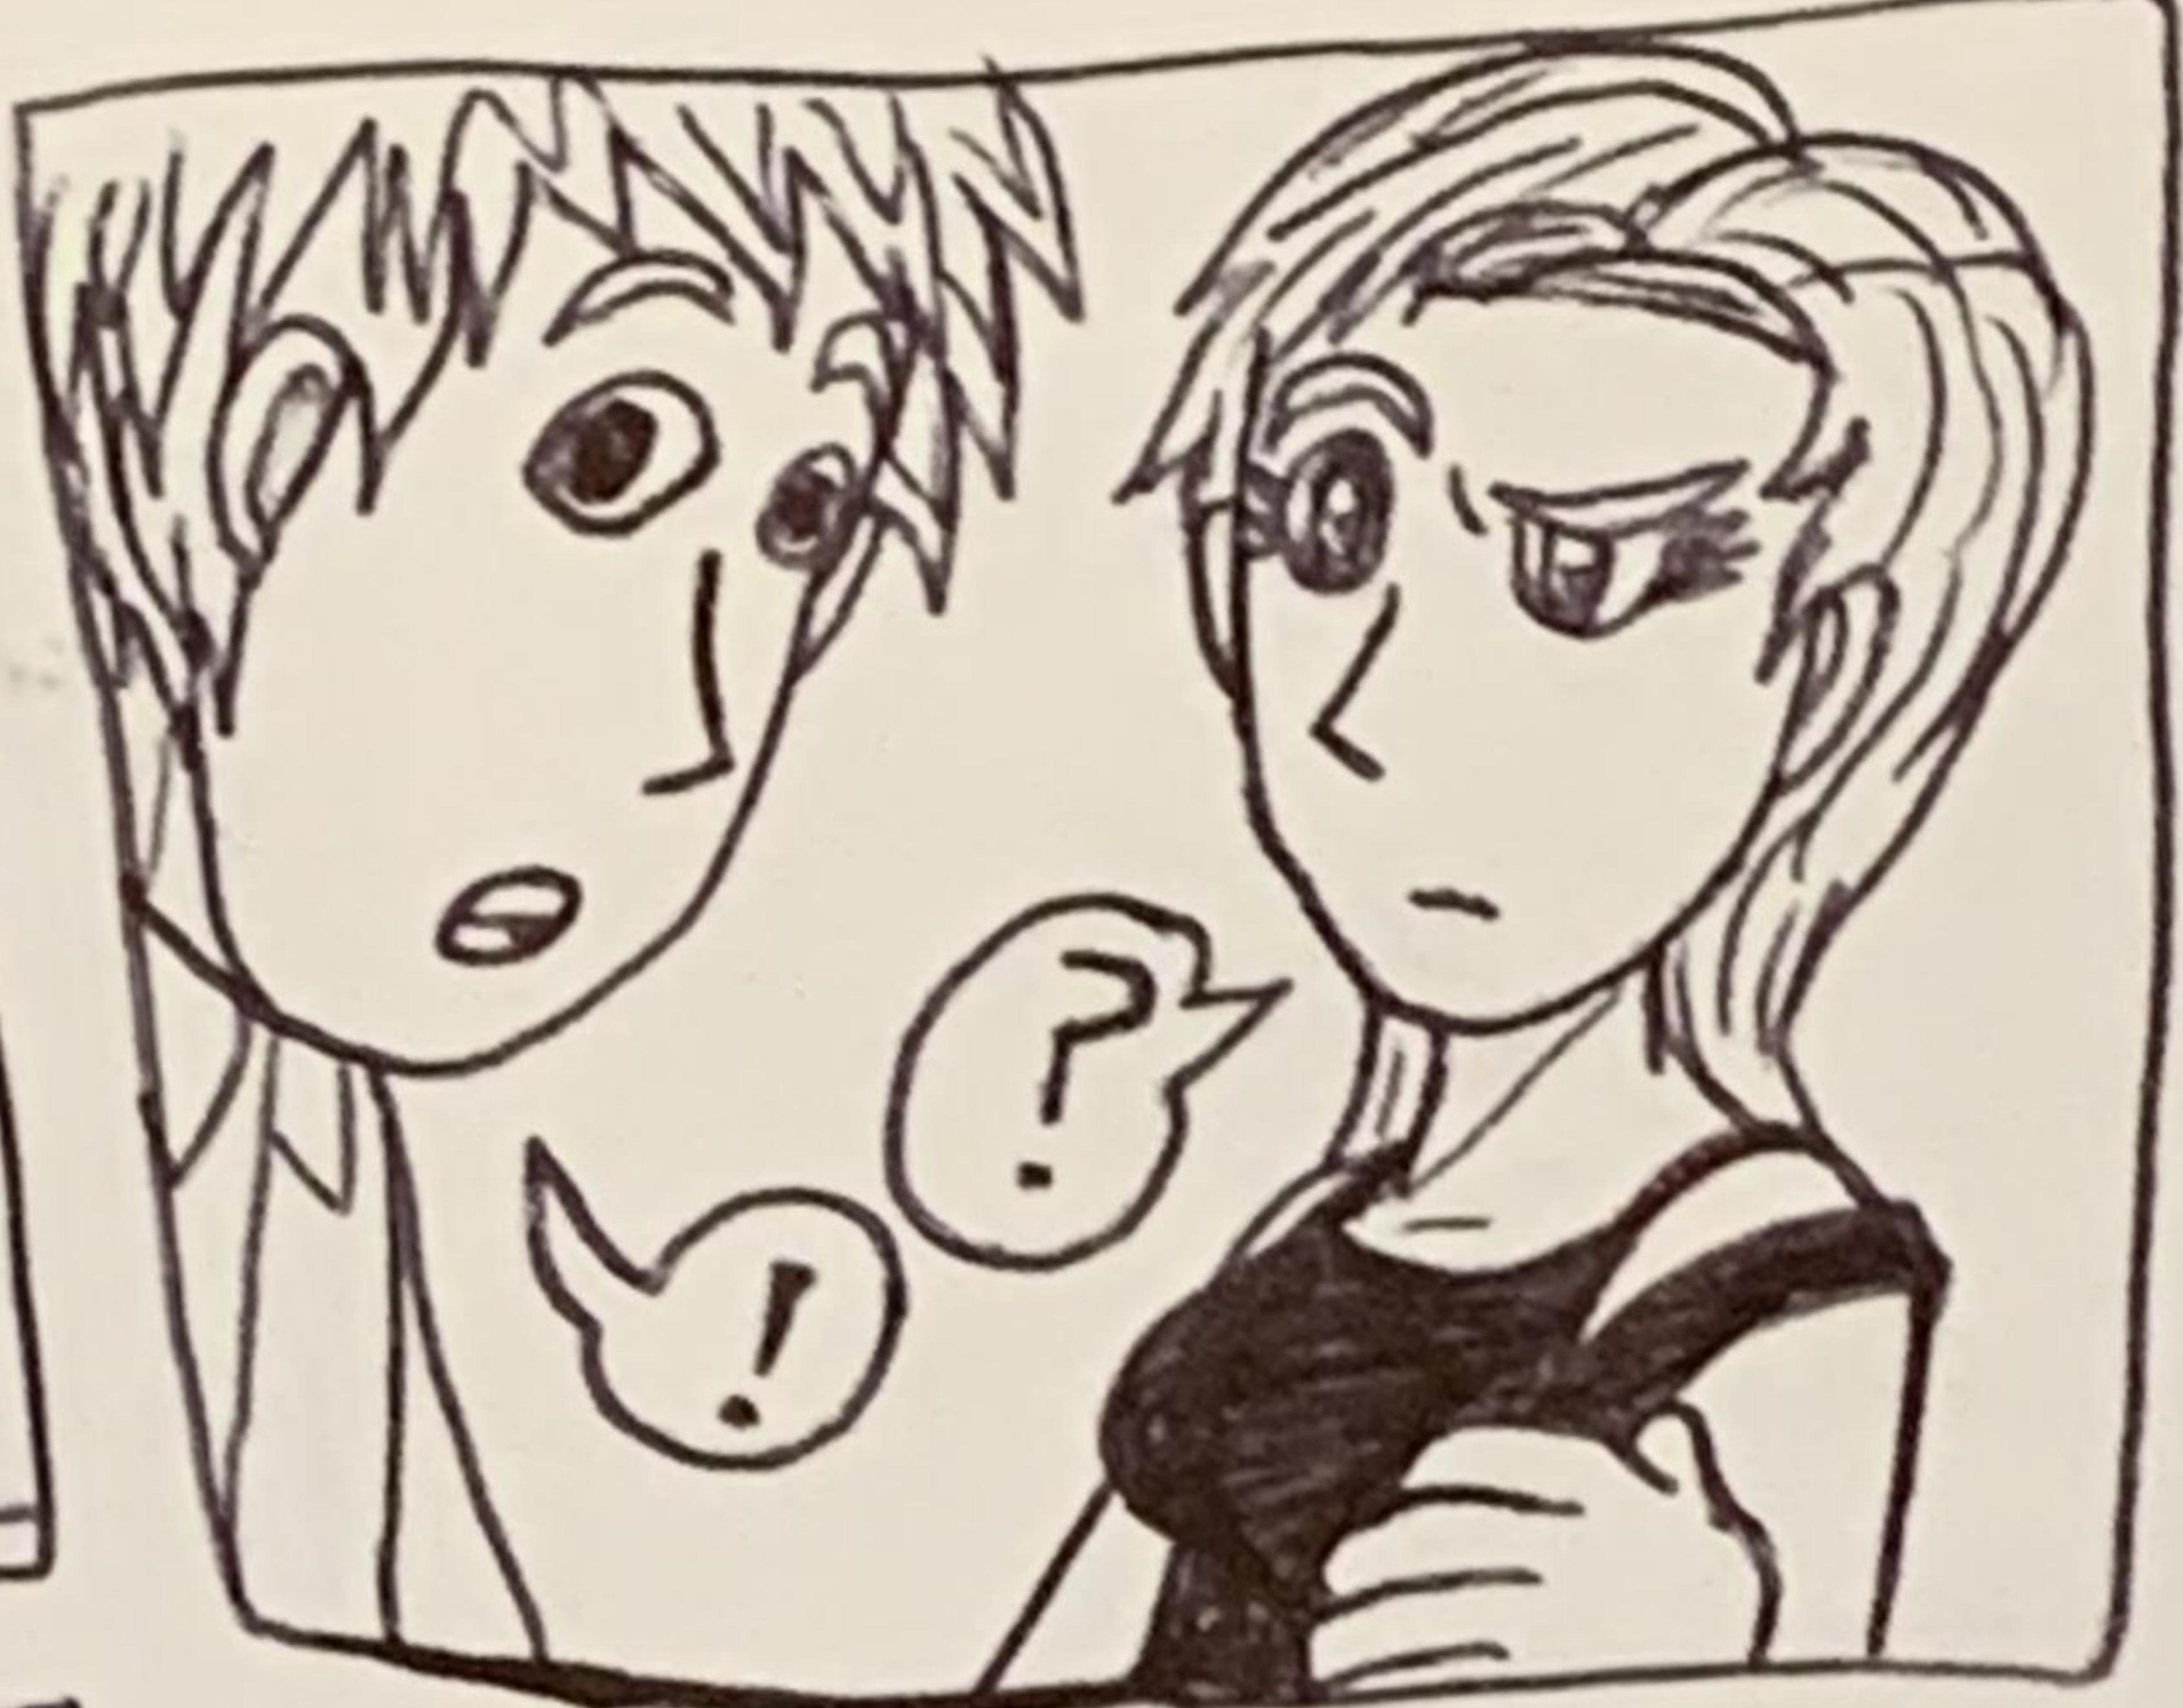

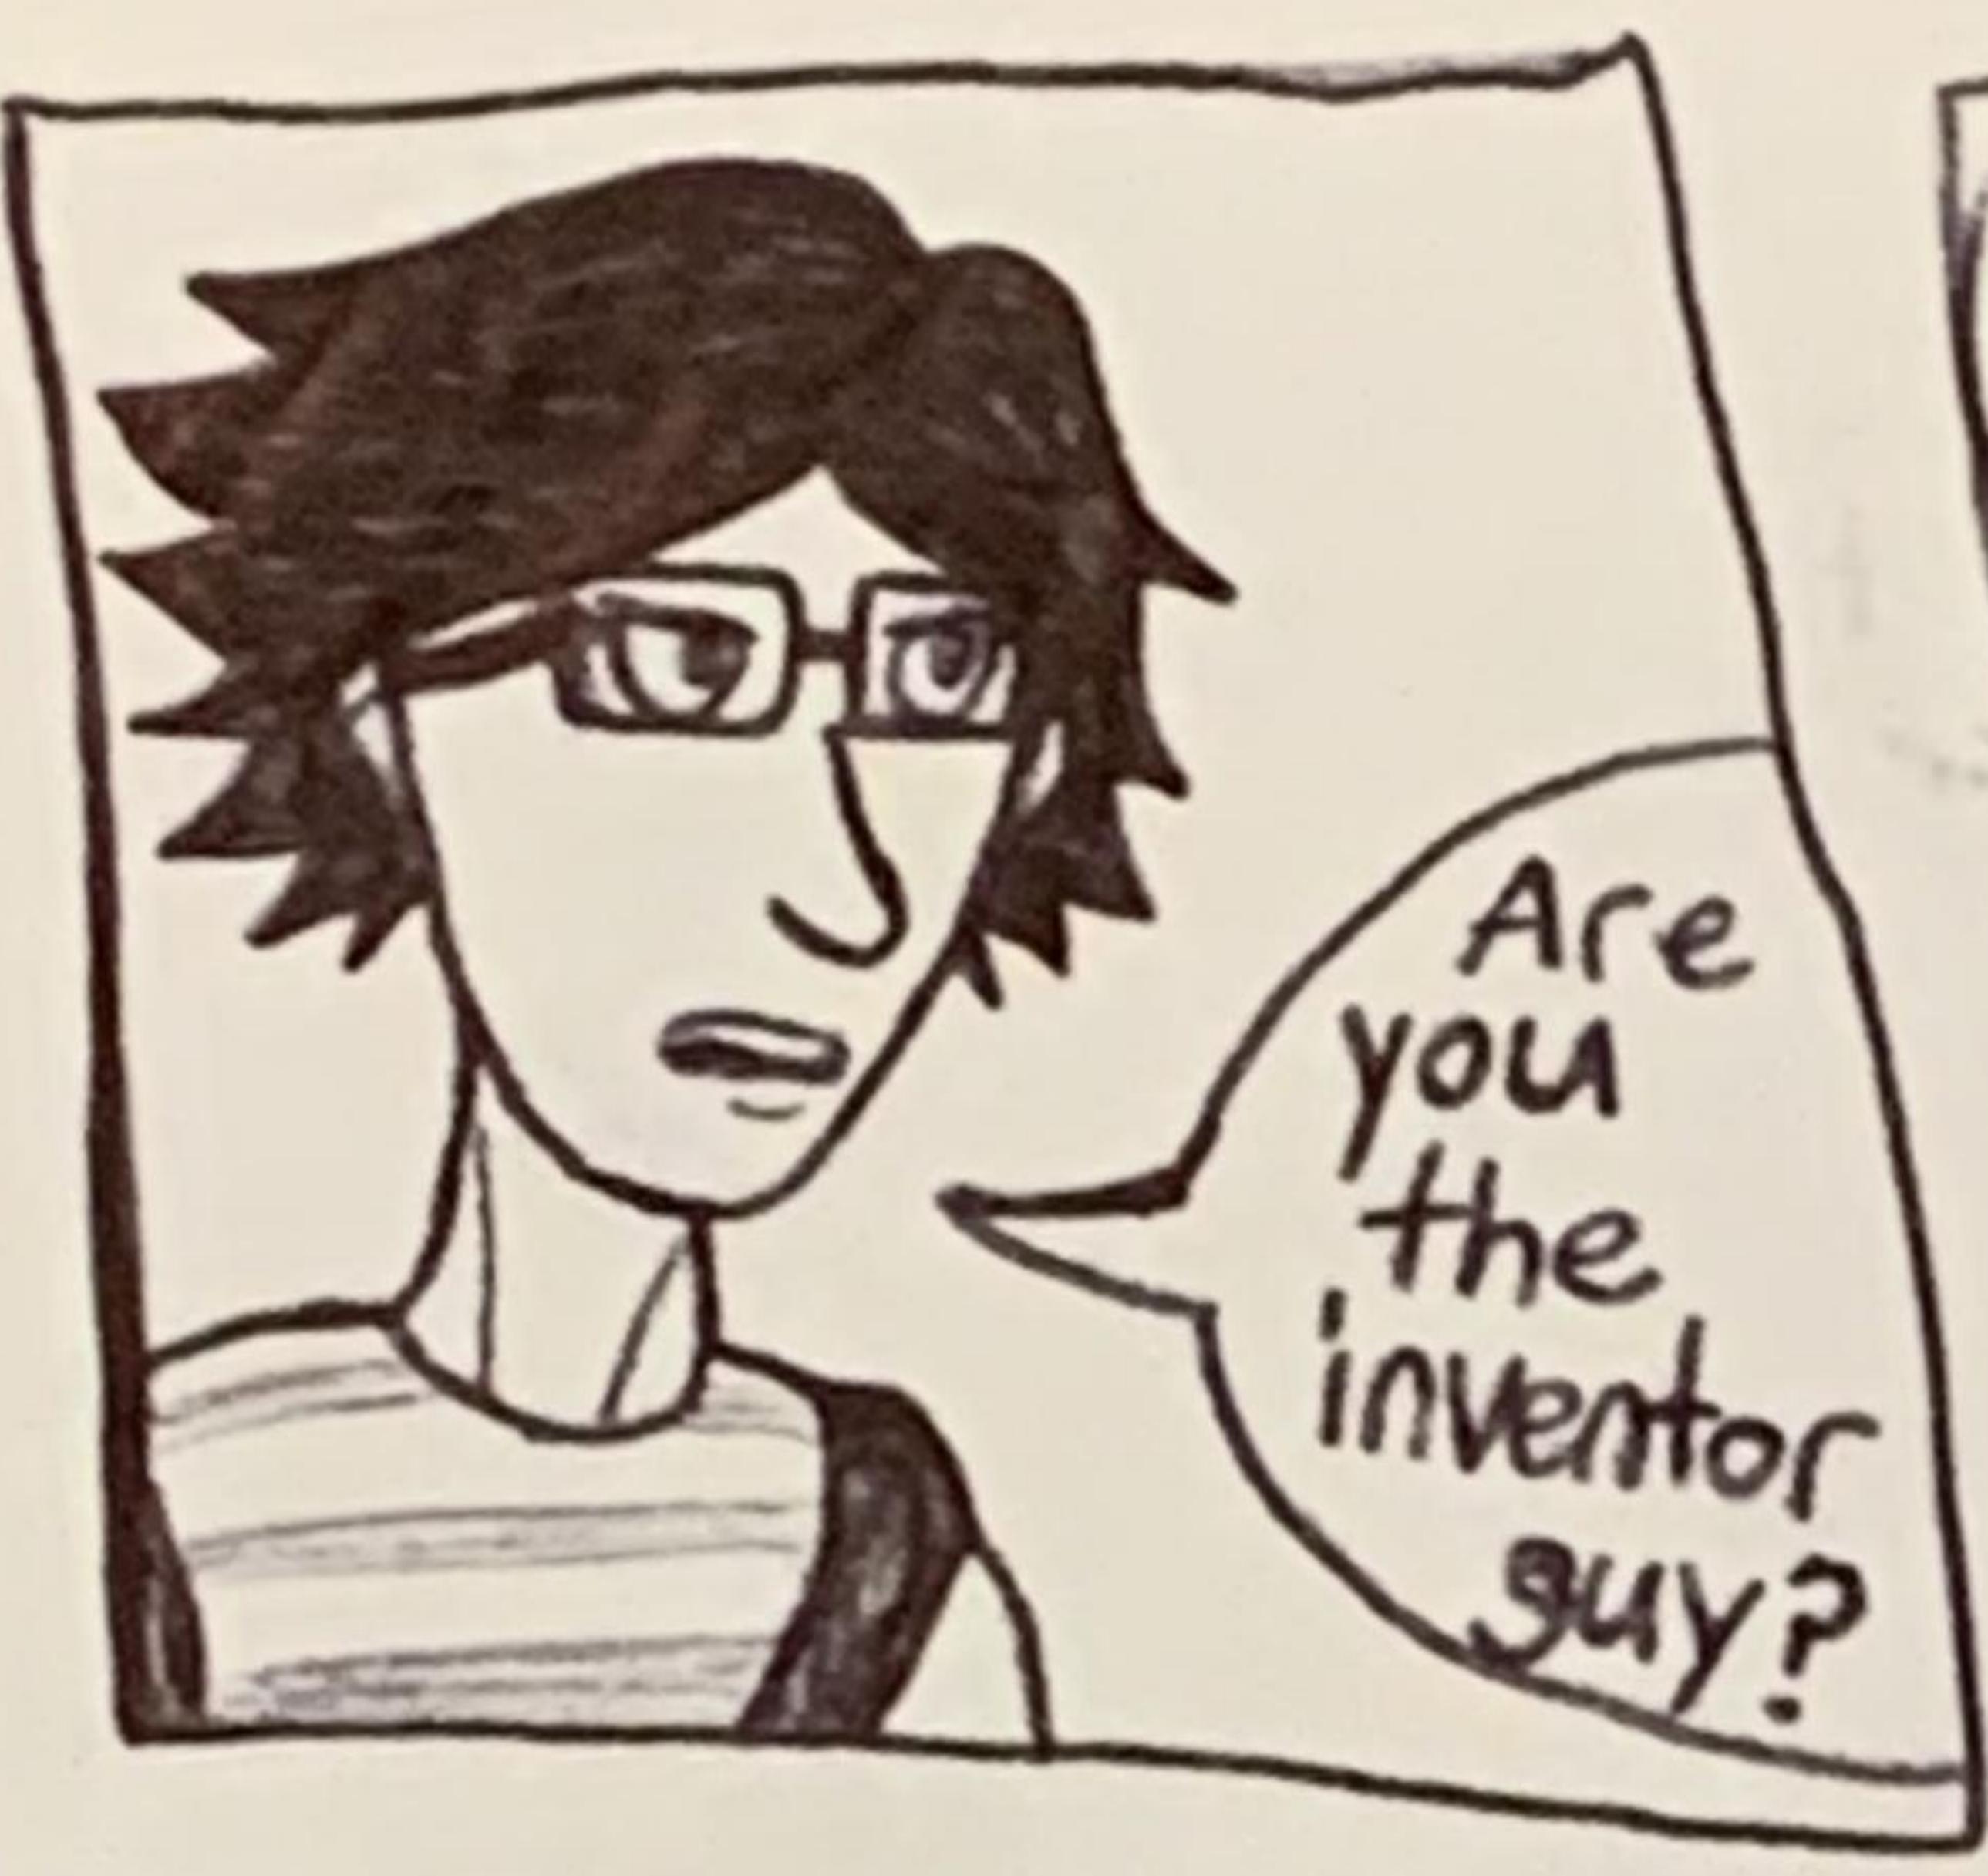

I built them in class today, so-

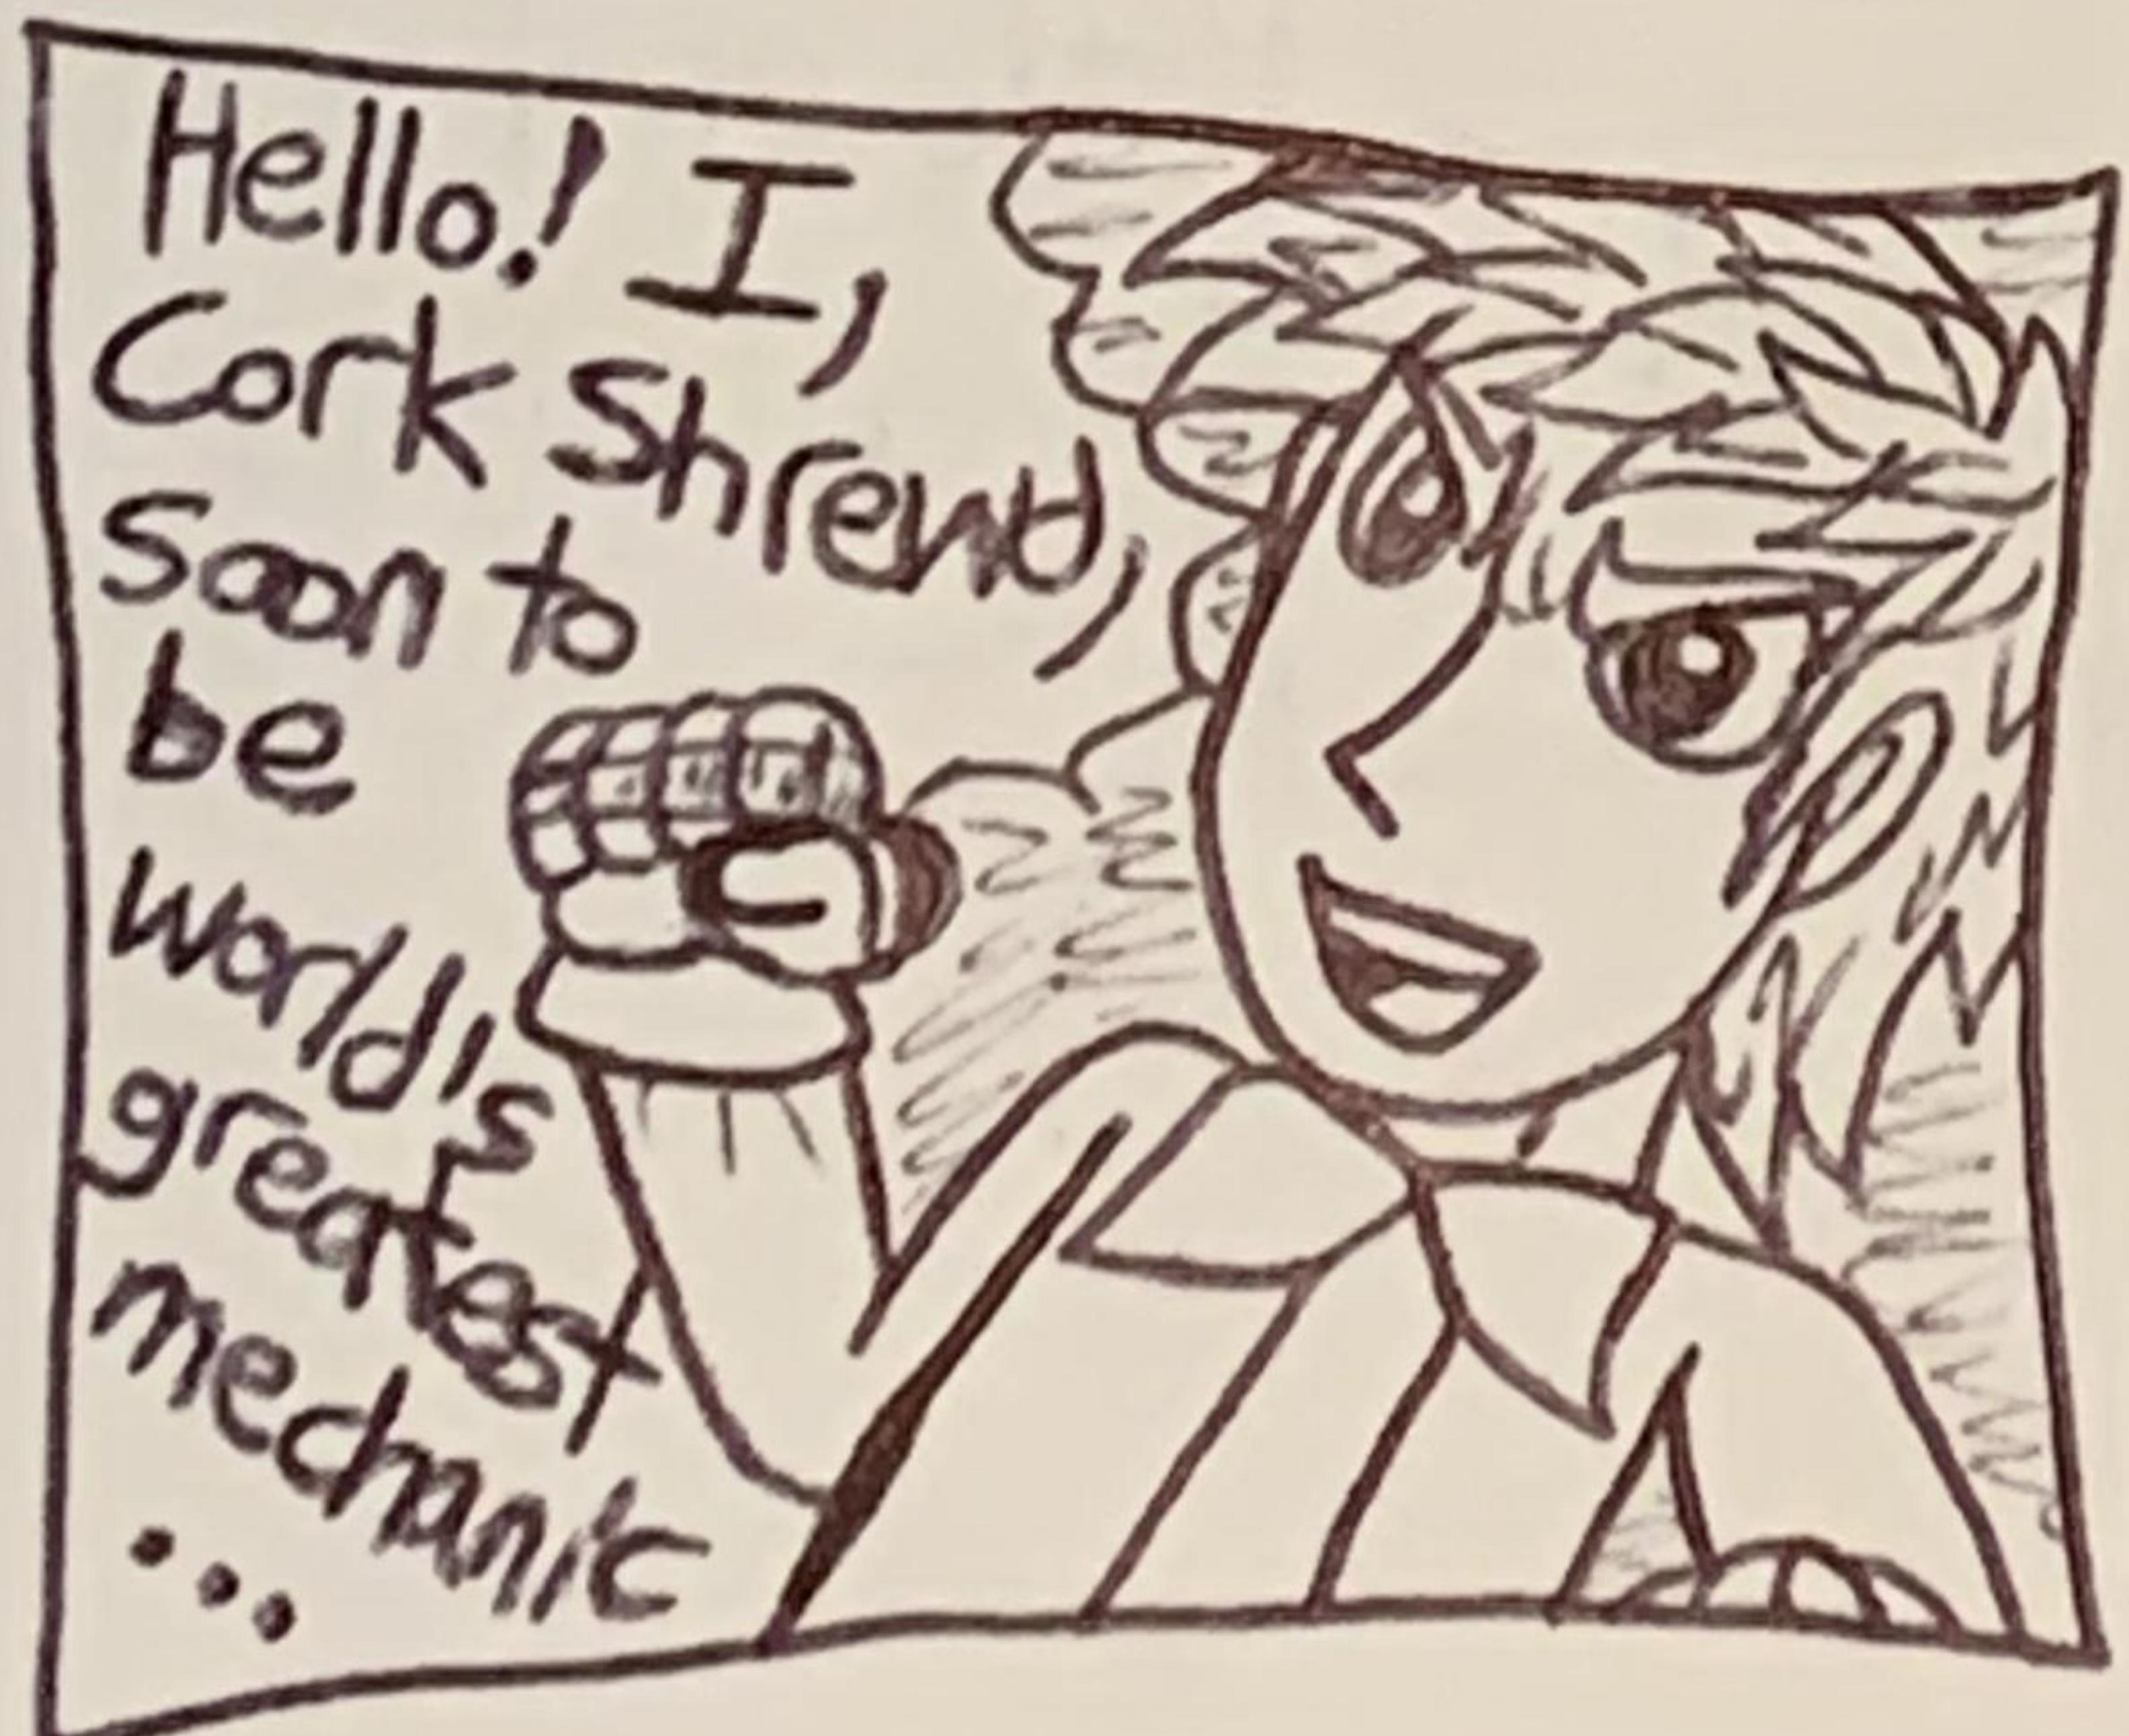

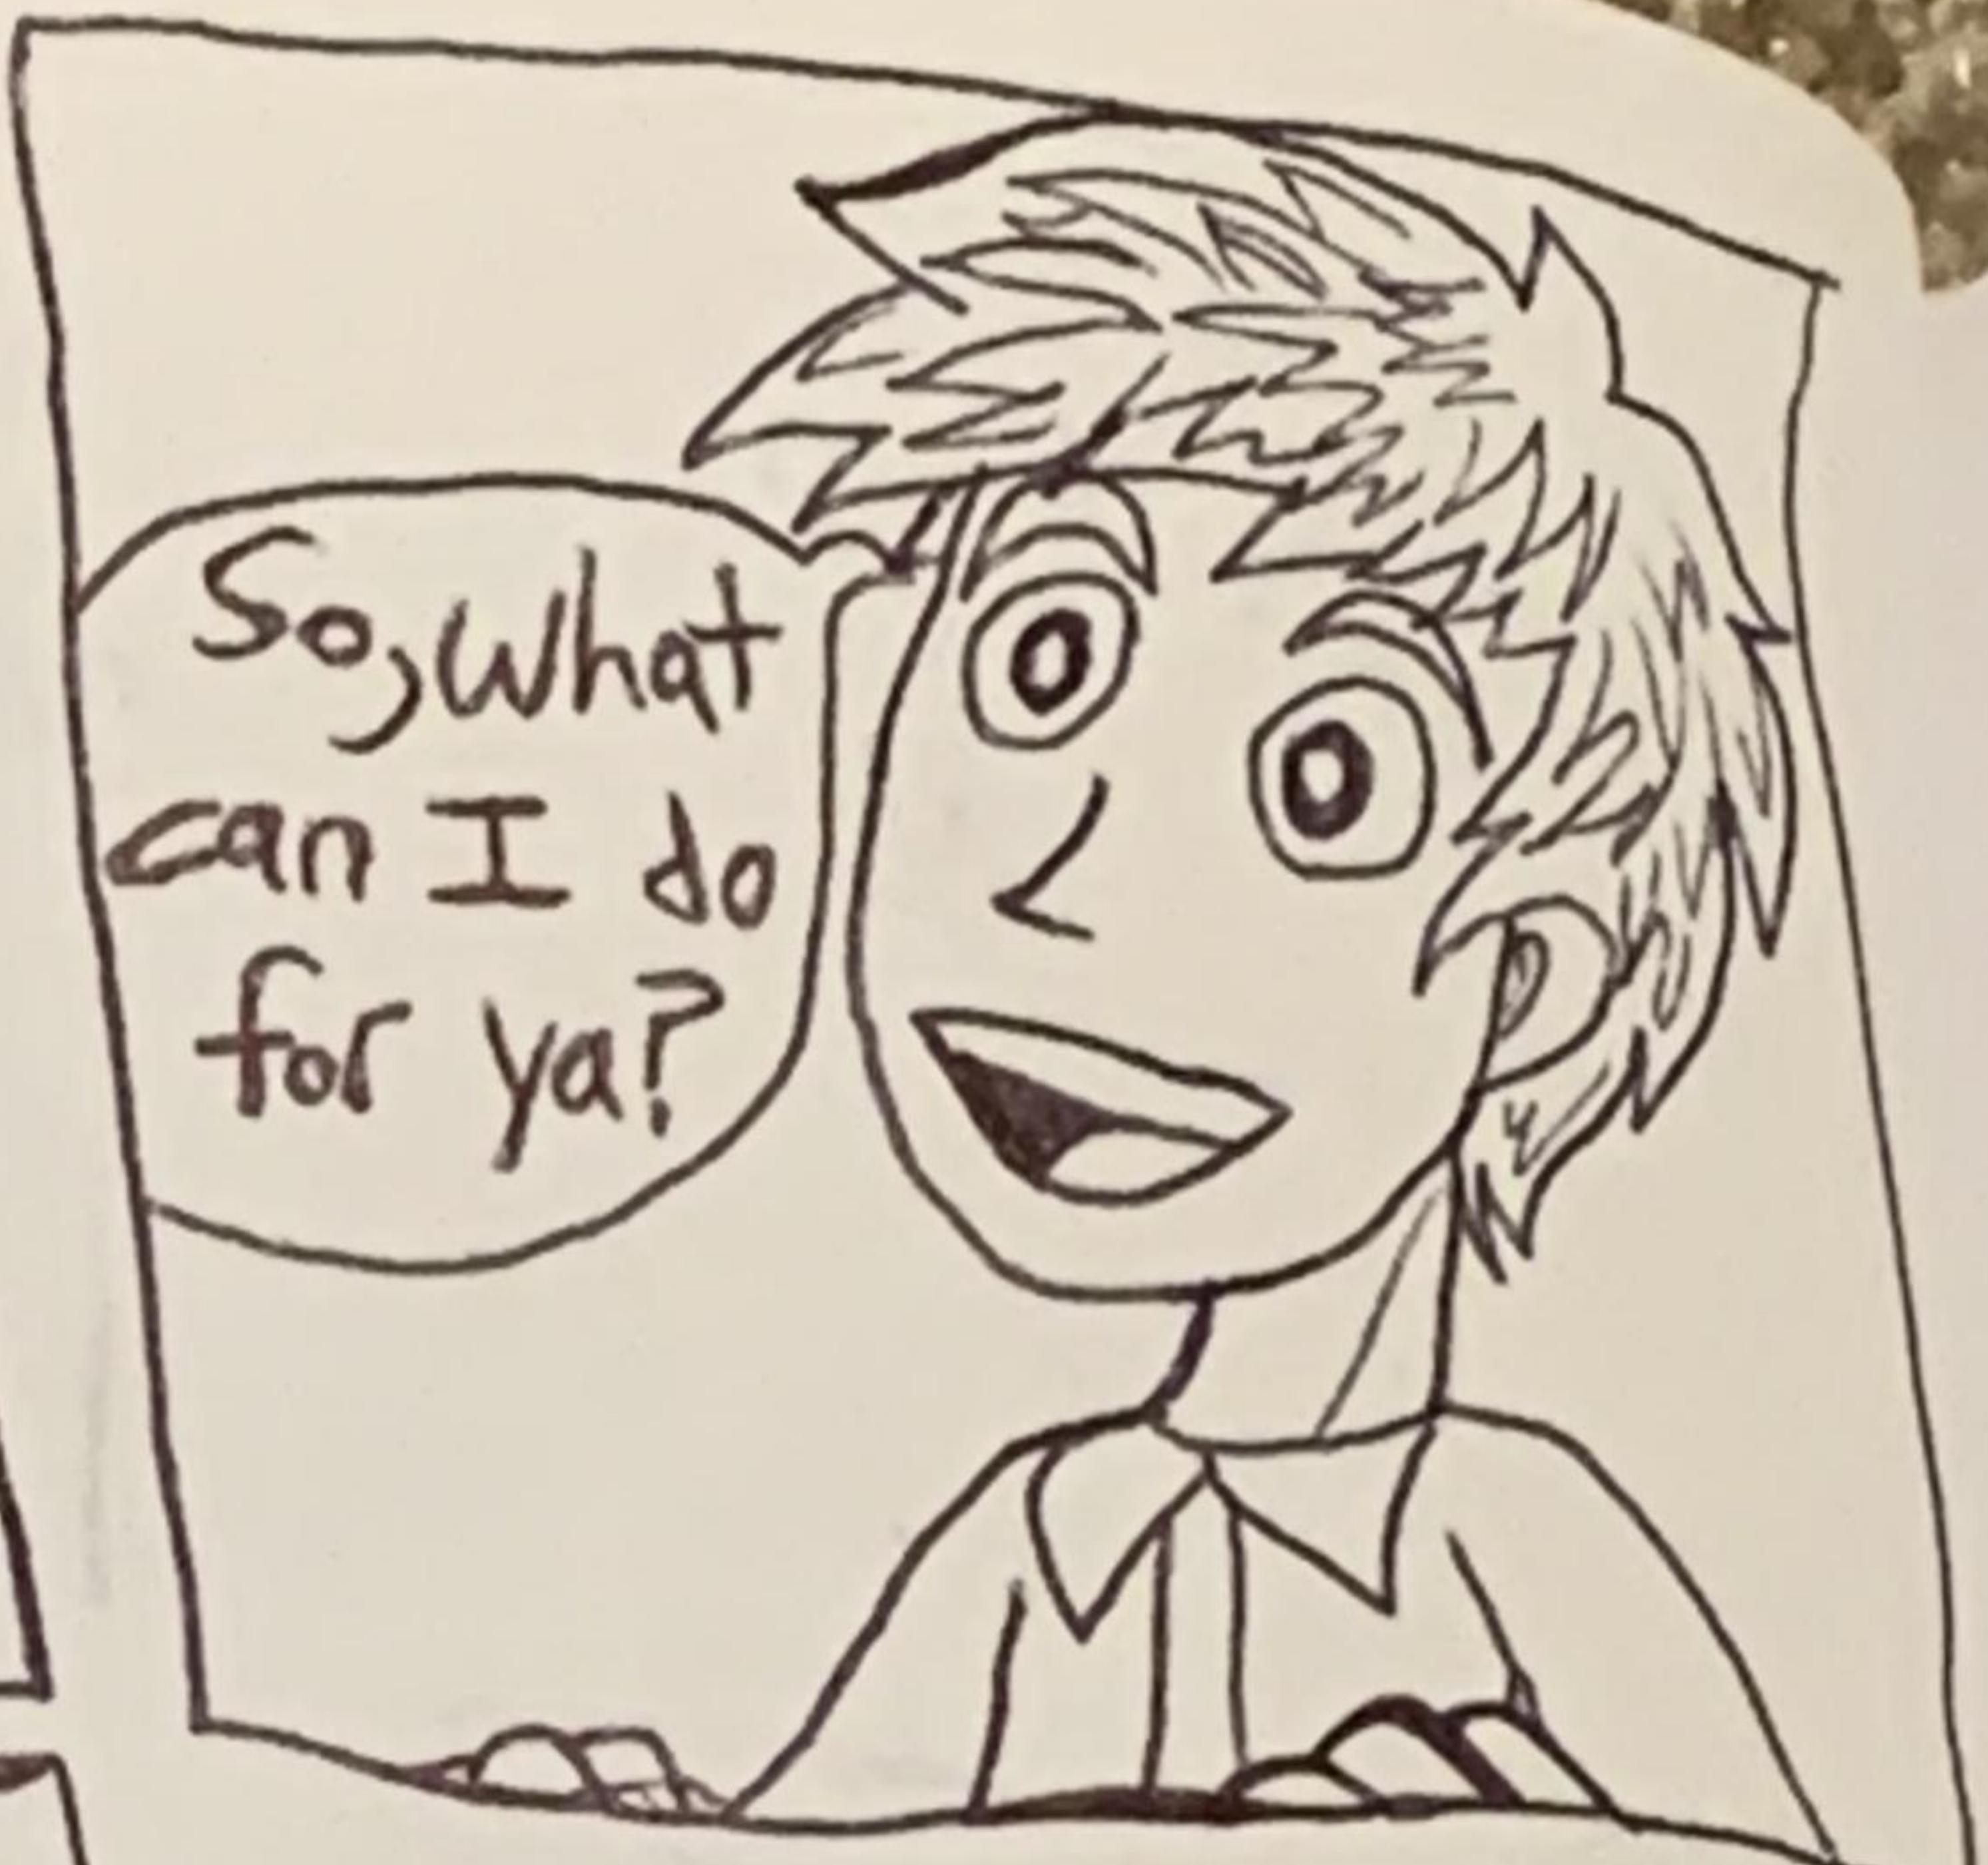

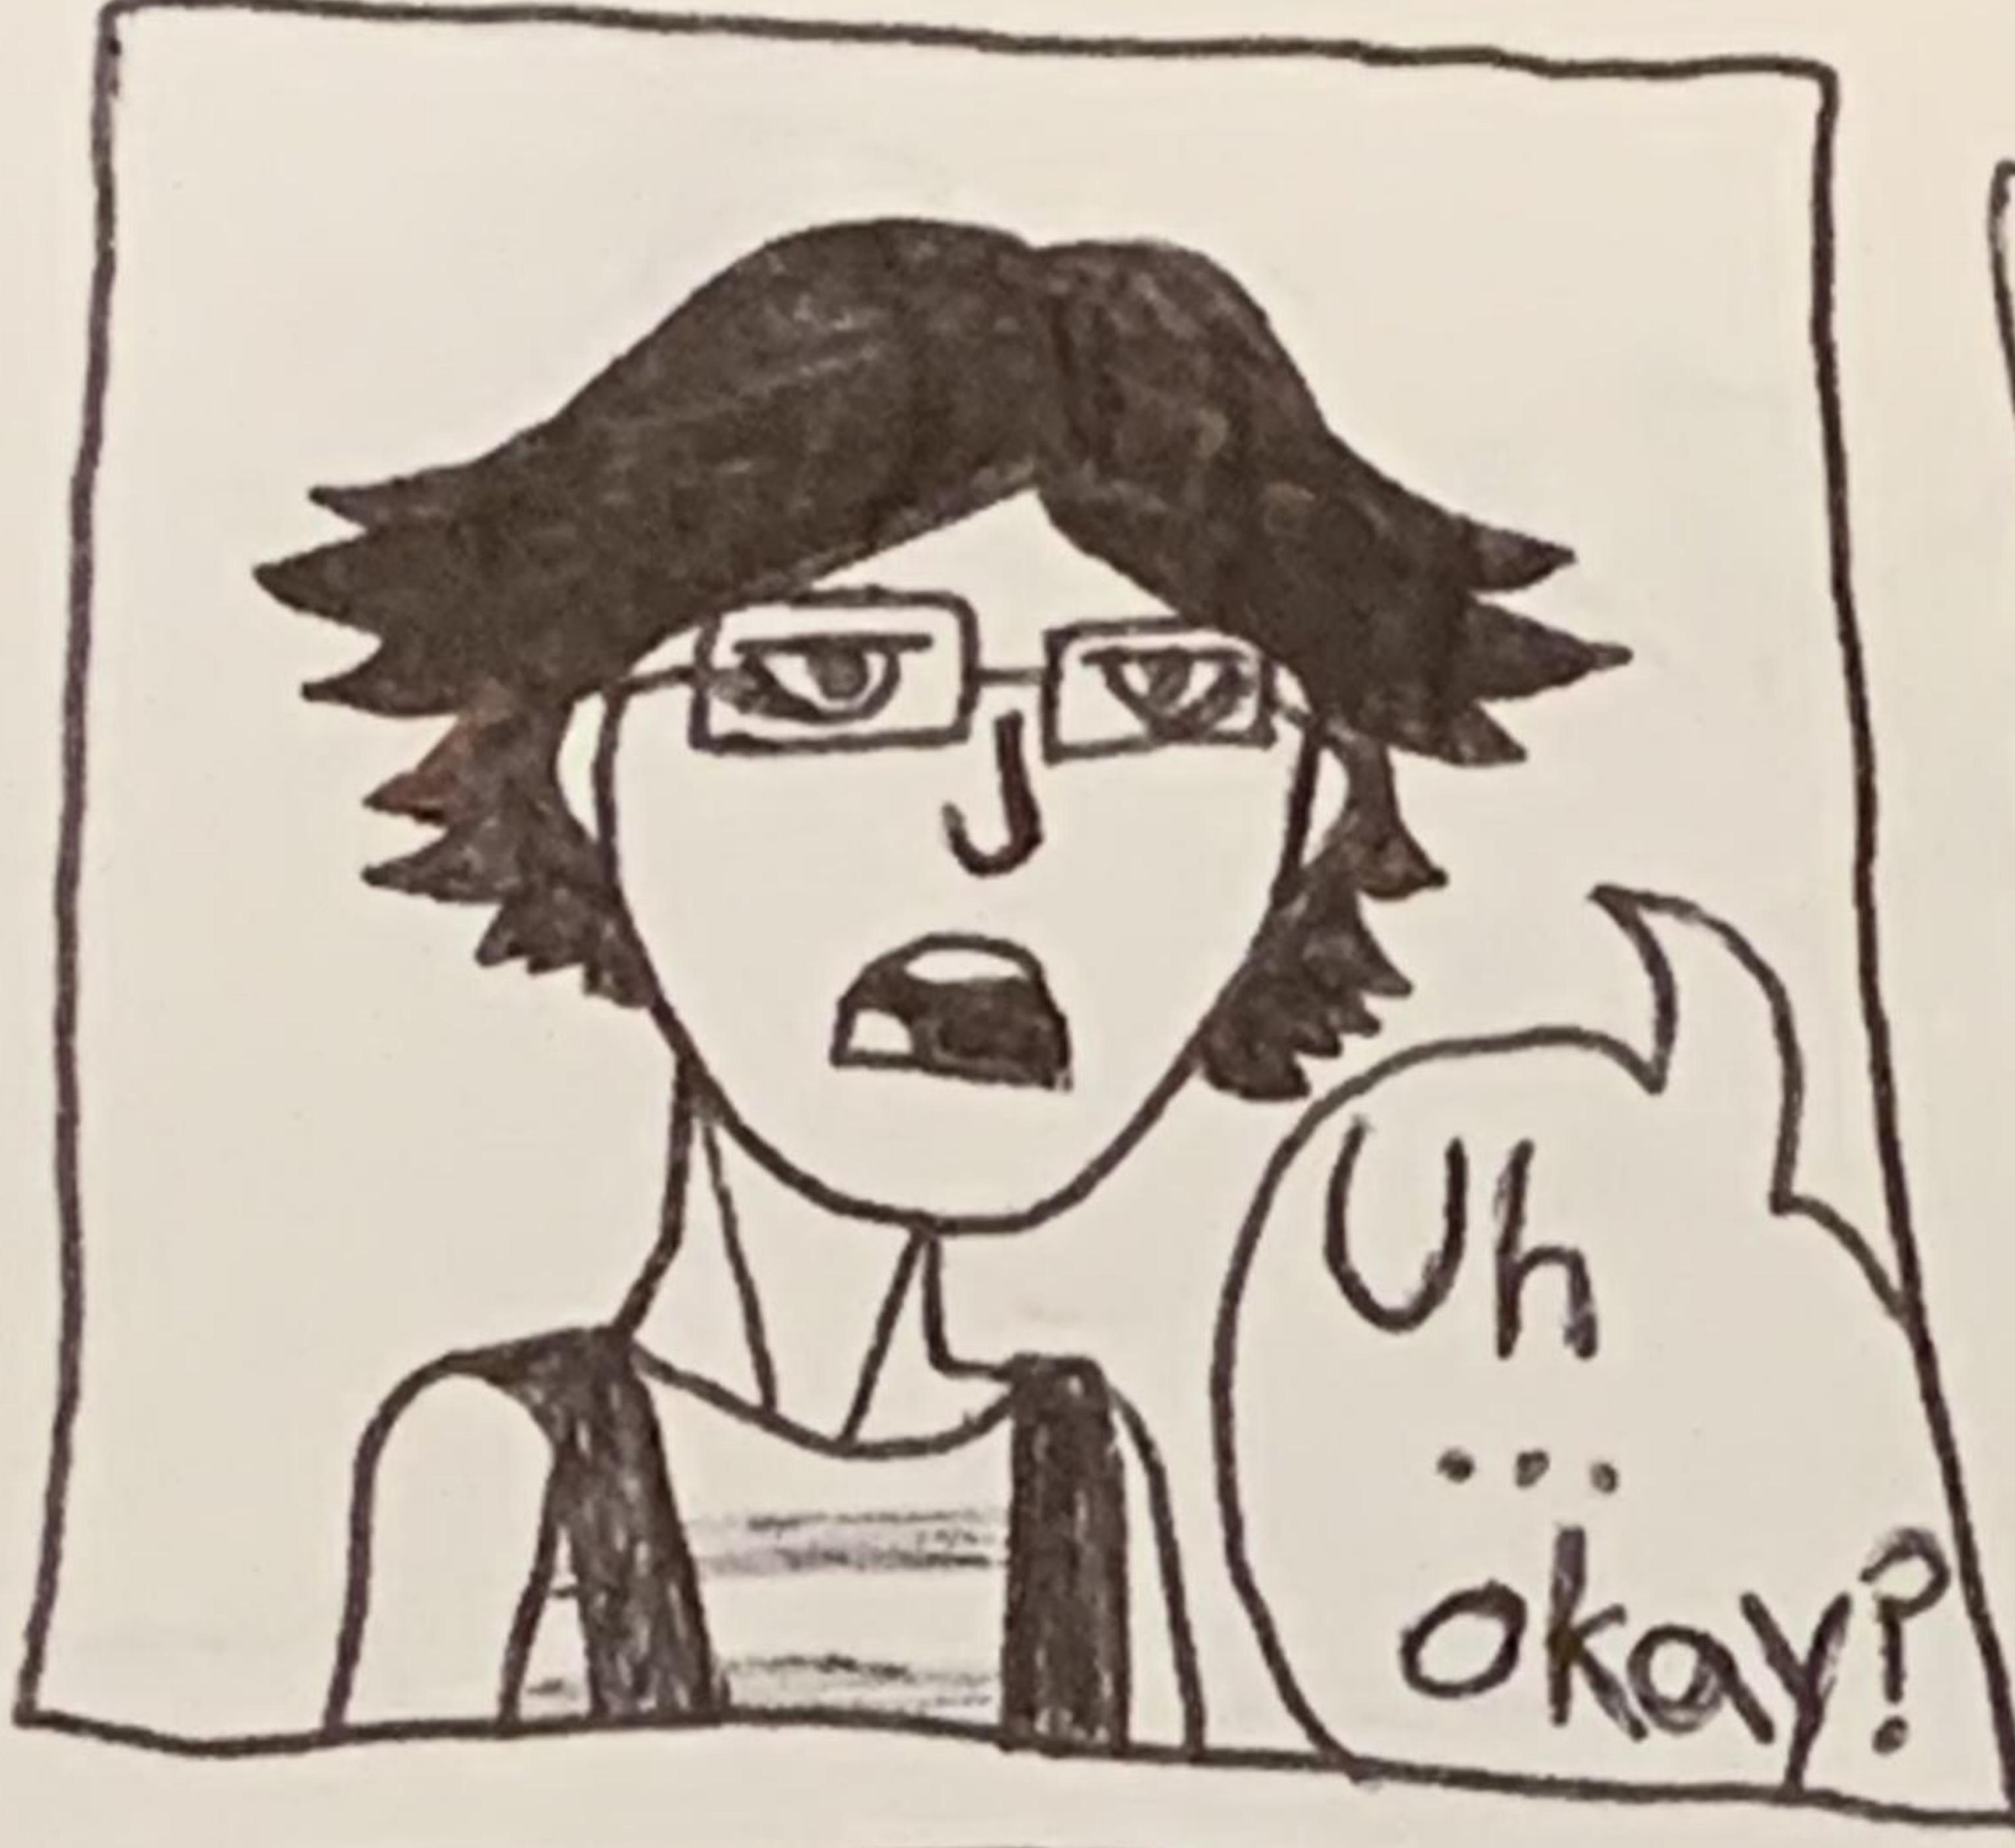

Hey!

I mean, you might have to buy the parts, but I'm not paying for anything.

No, I have homework, come to think of it.

Oh. Um...
okay, then.

Bye, I guess.

Well... where were we?

Nope! Just leave me to it and I'll have little Walter's allergies cured in no time flat!

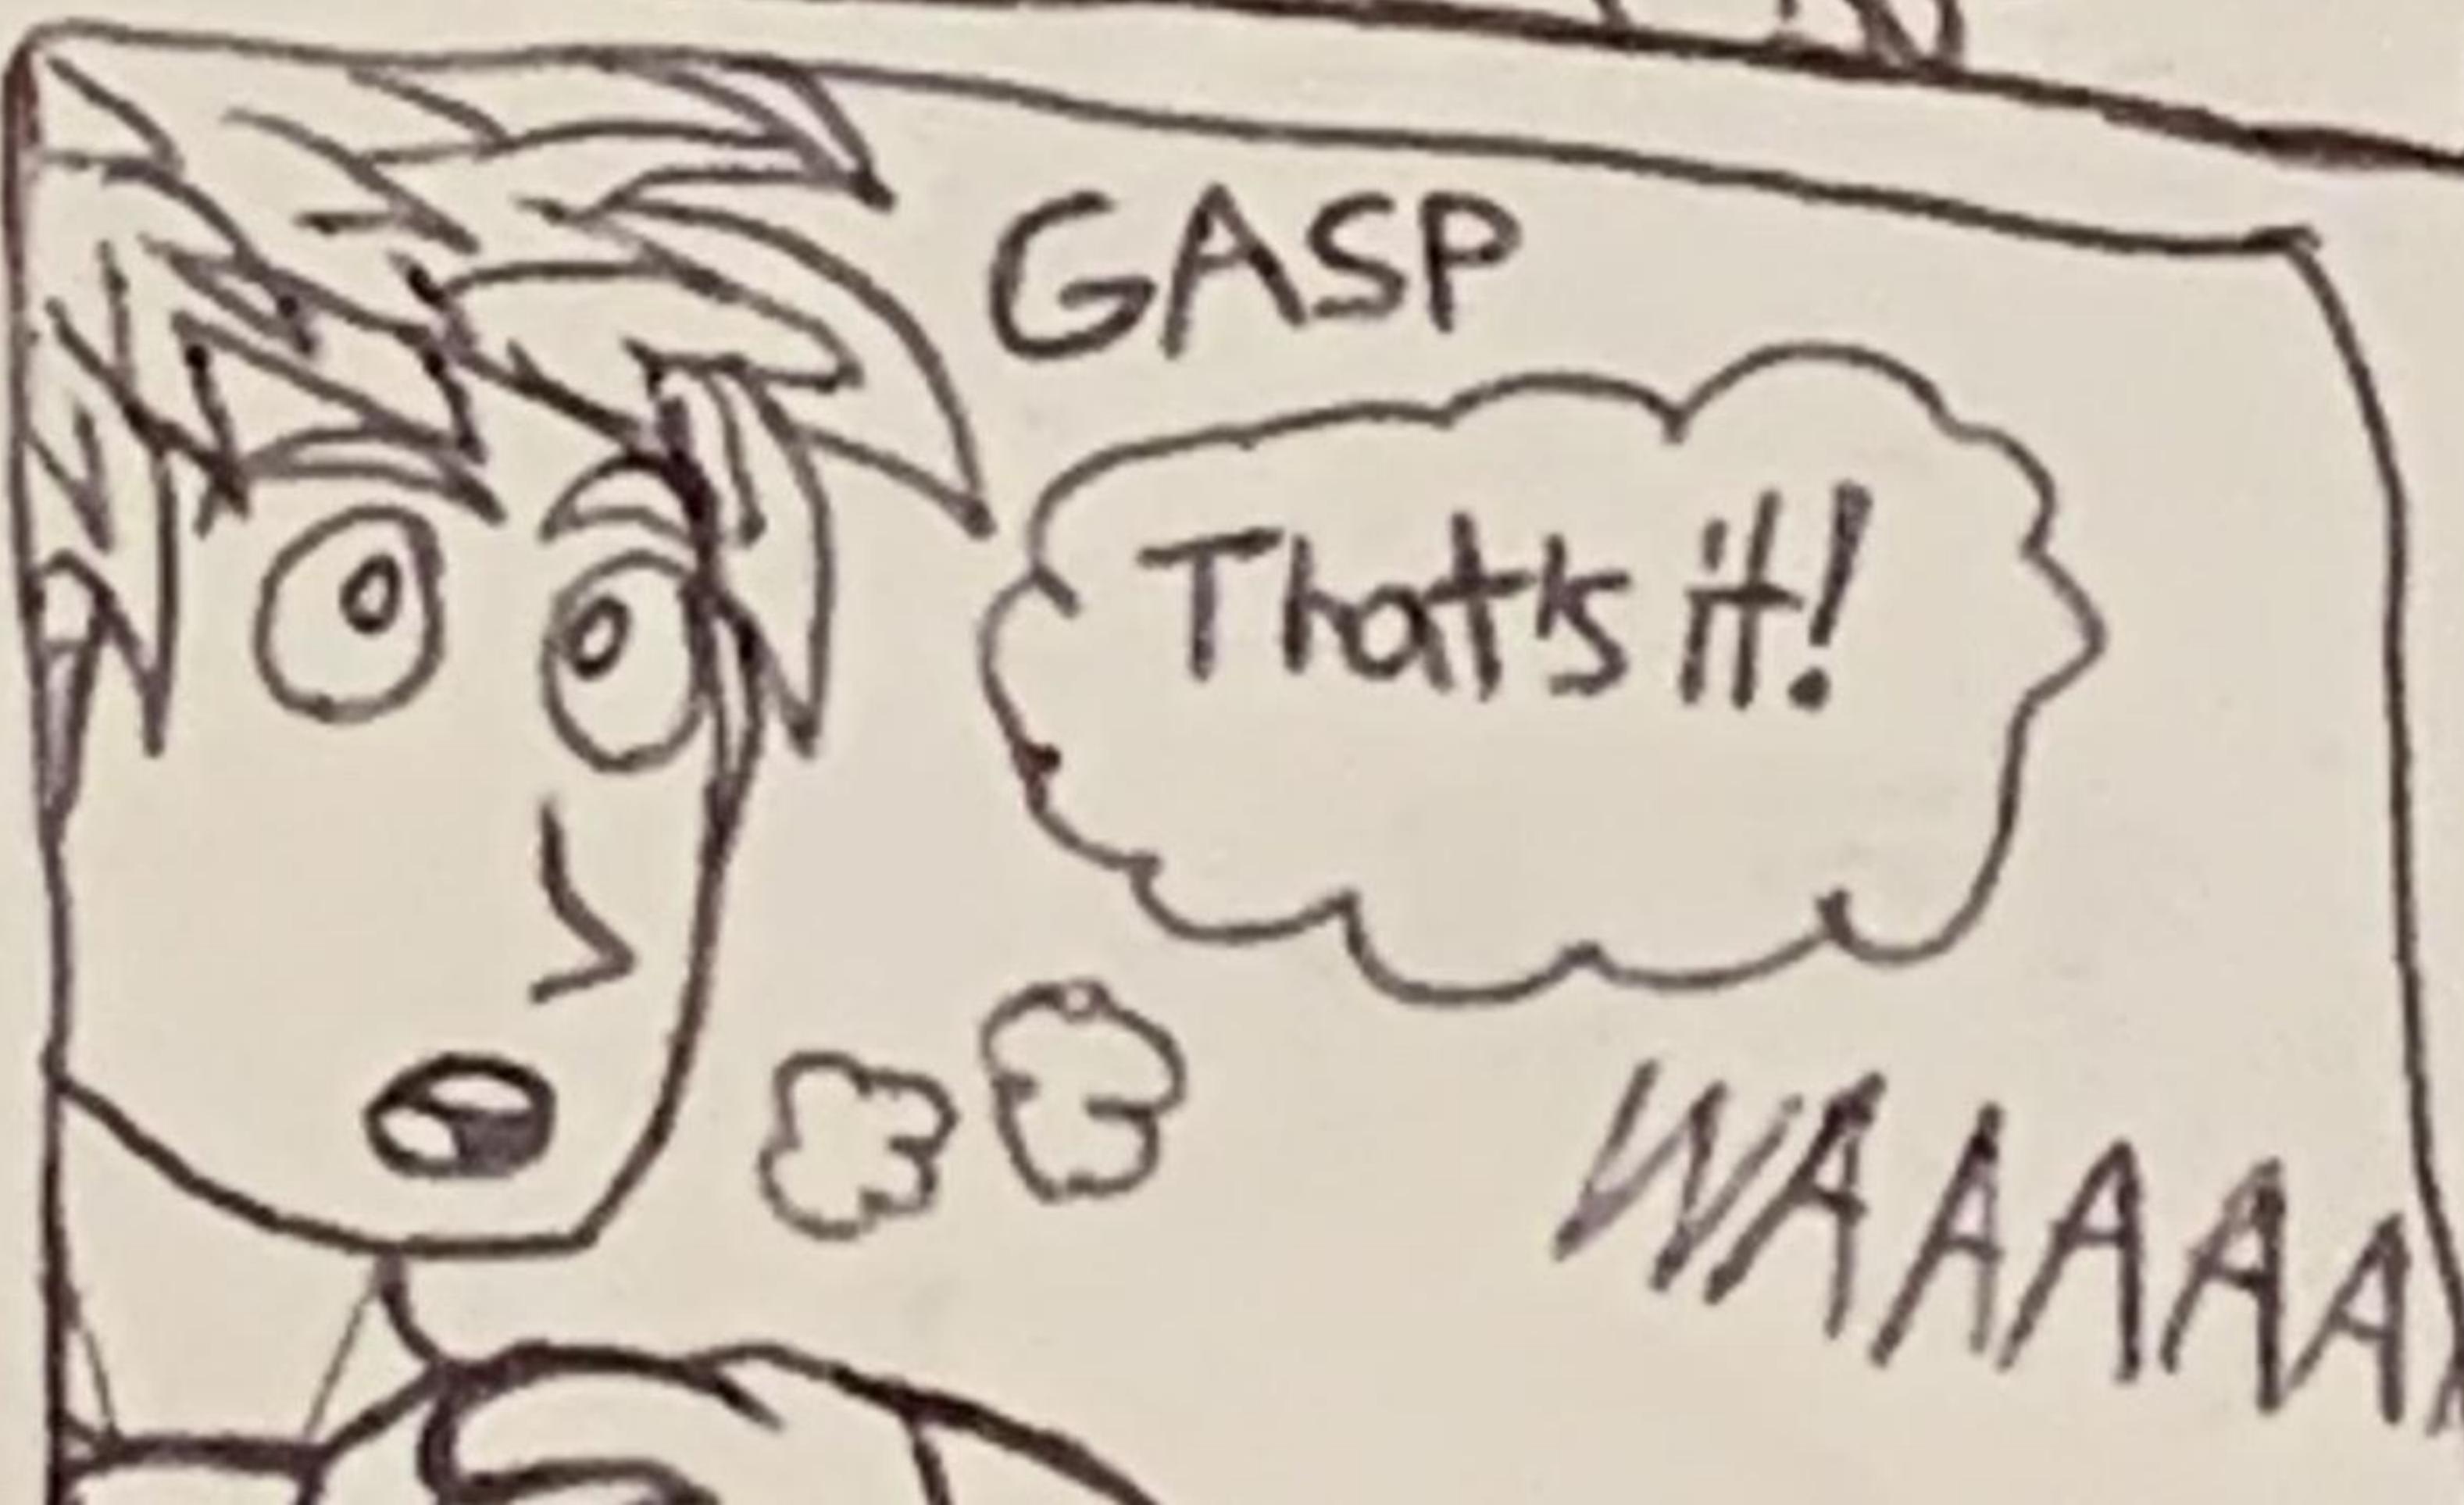

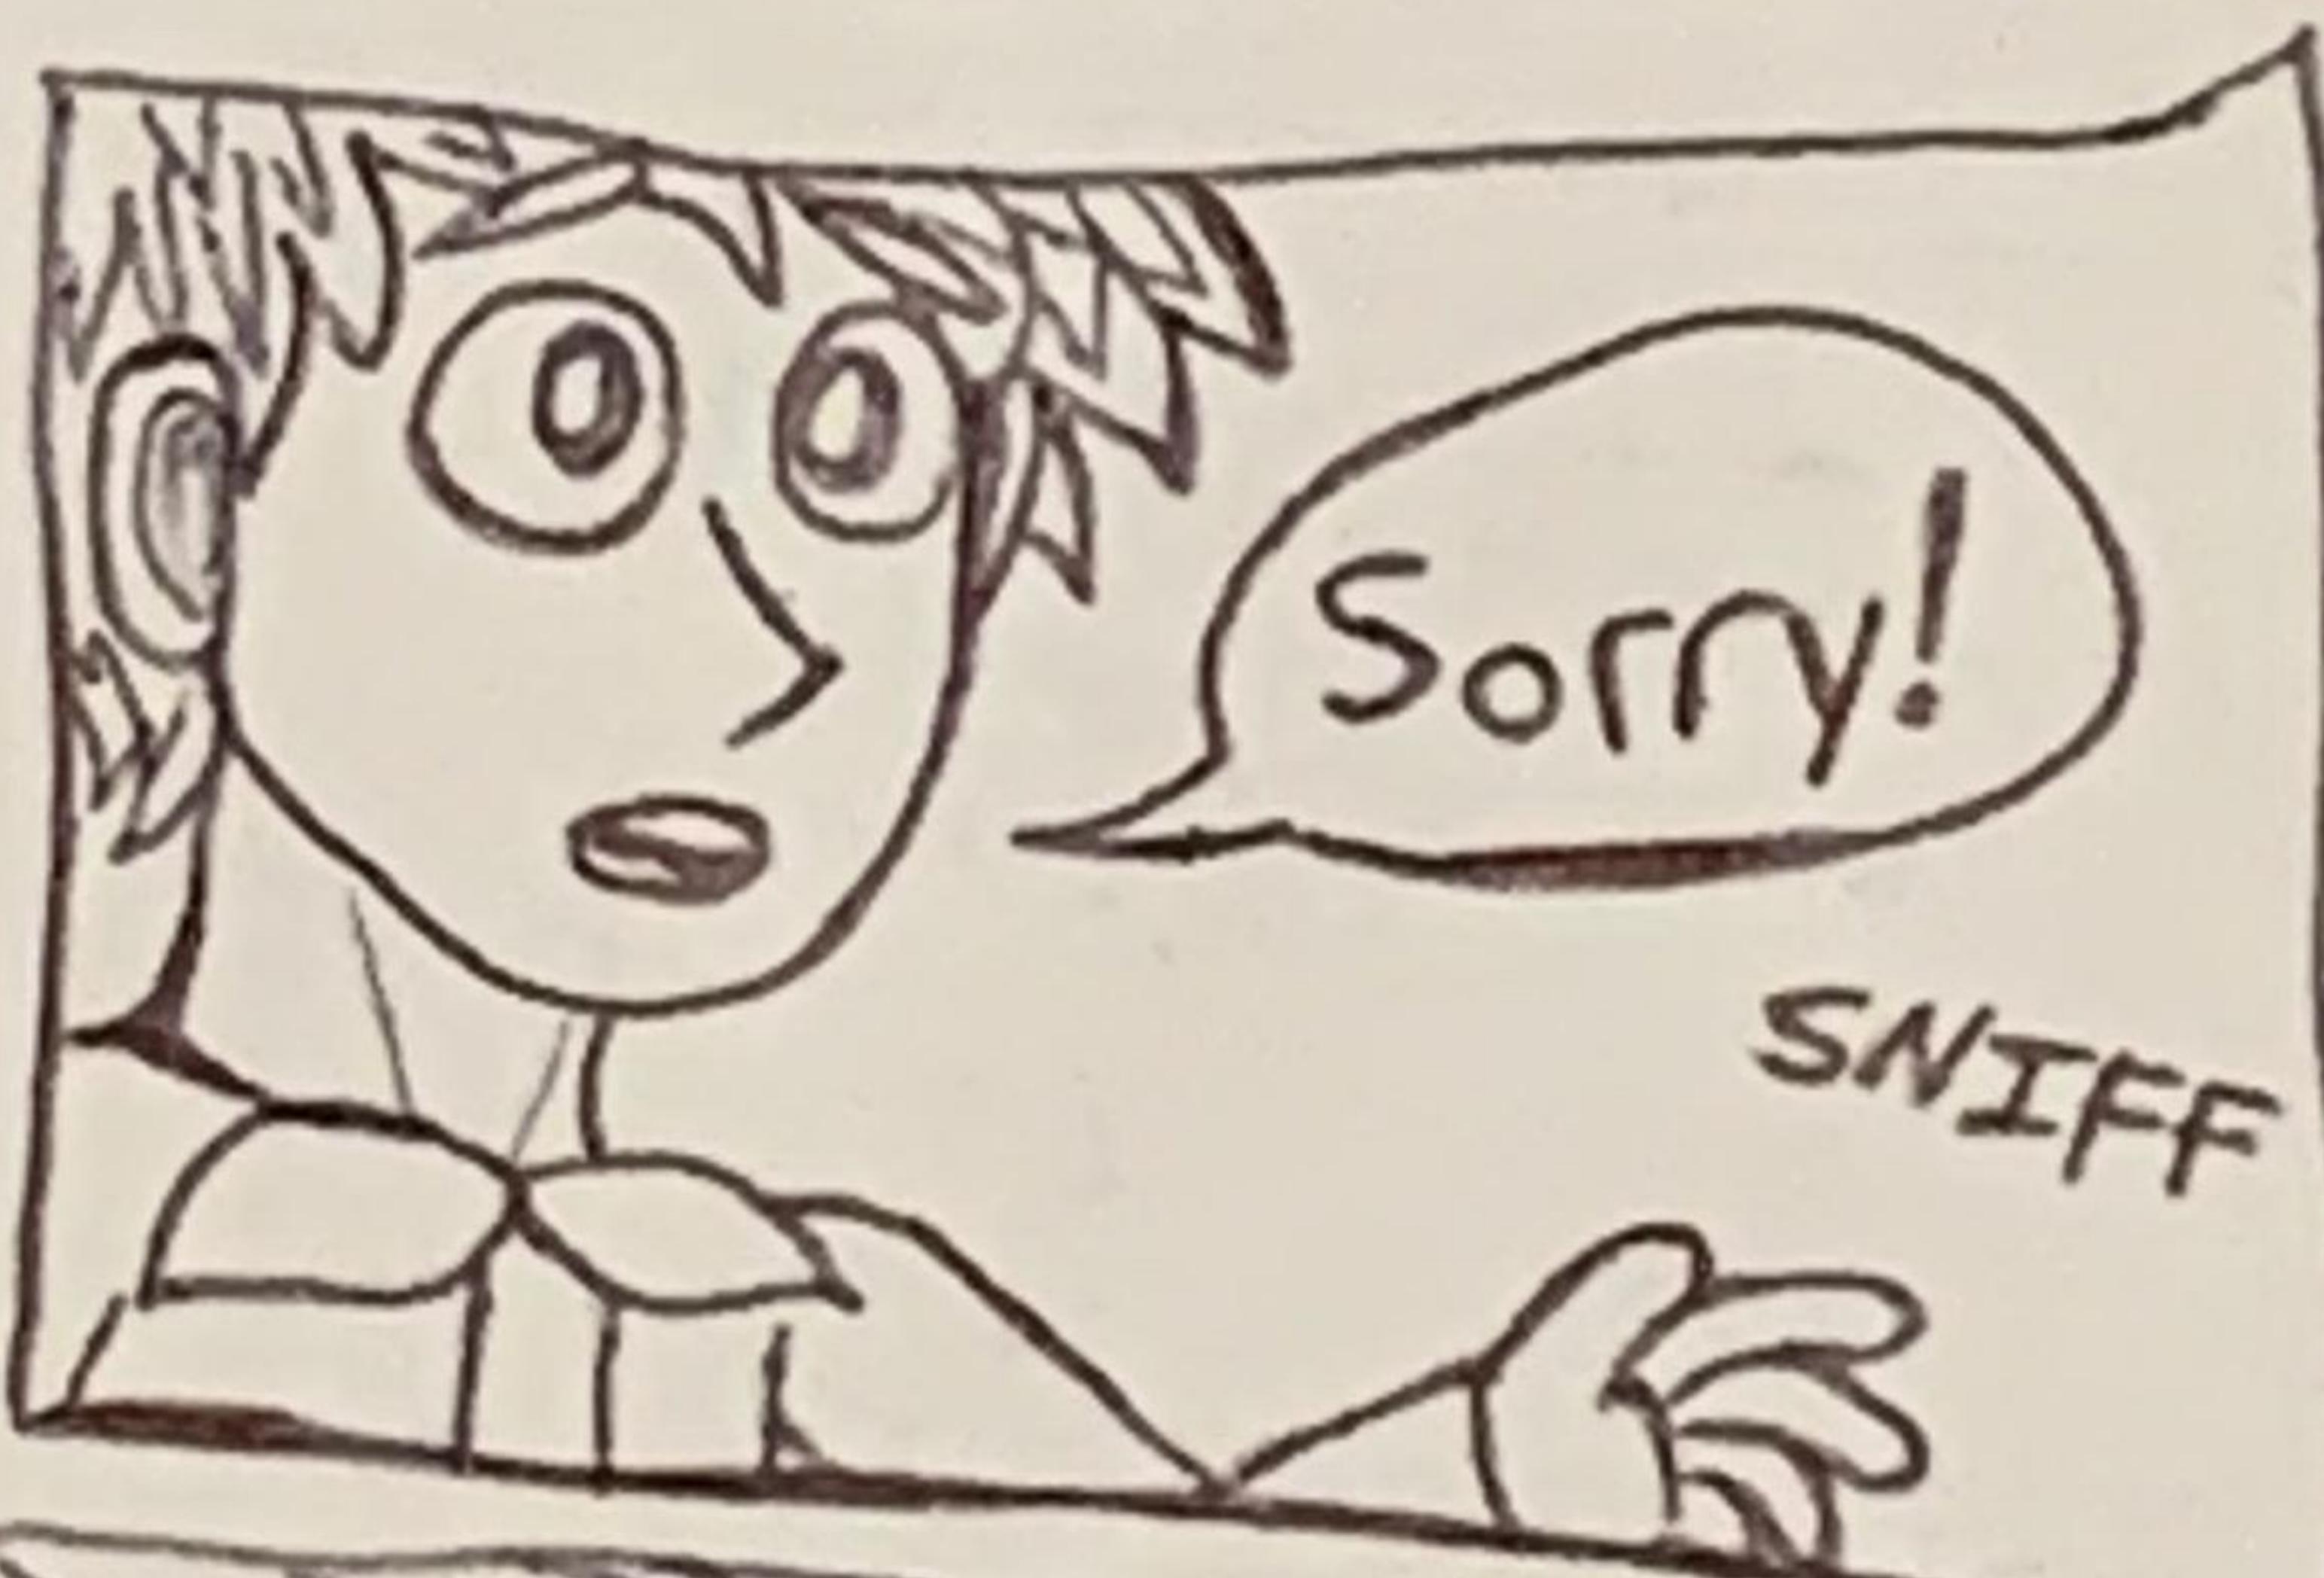

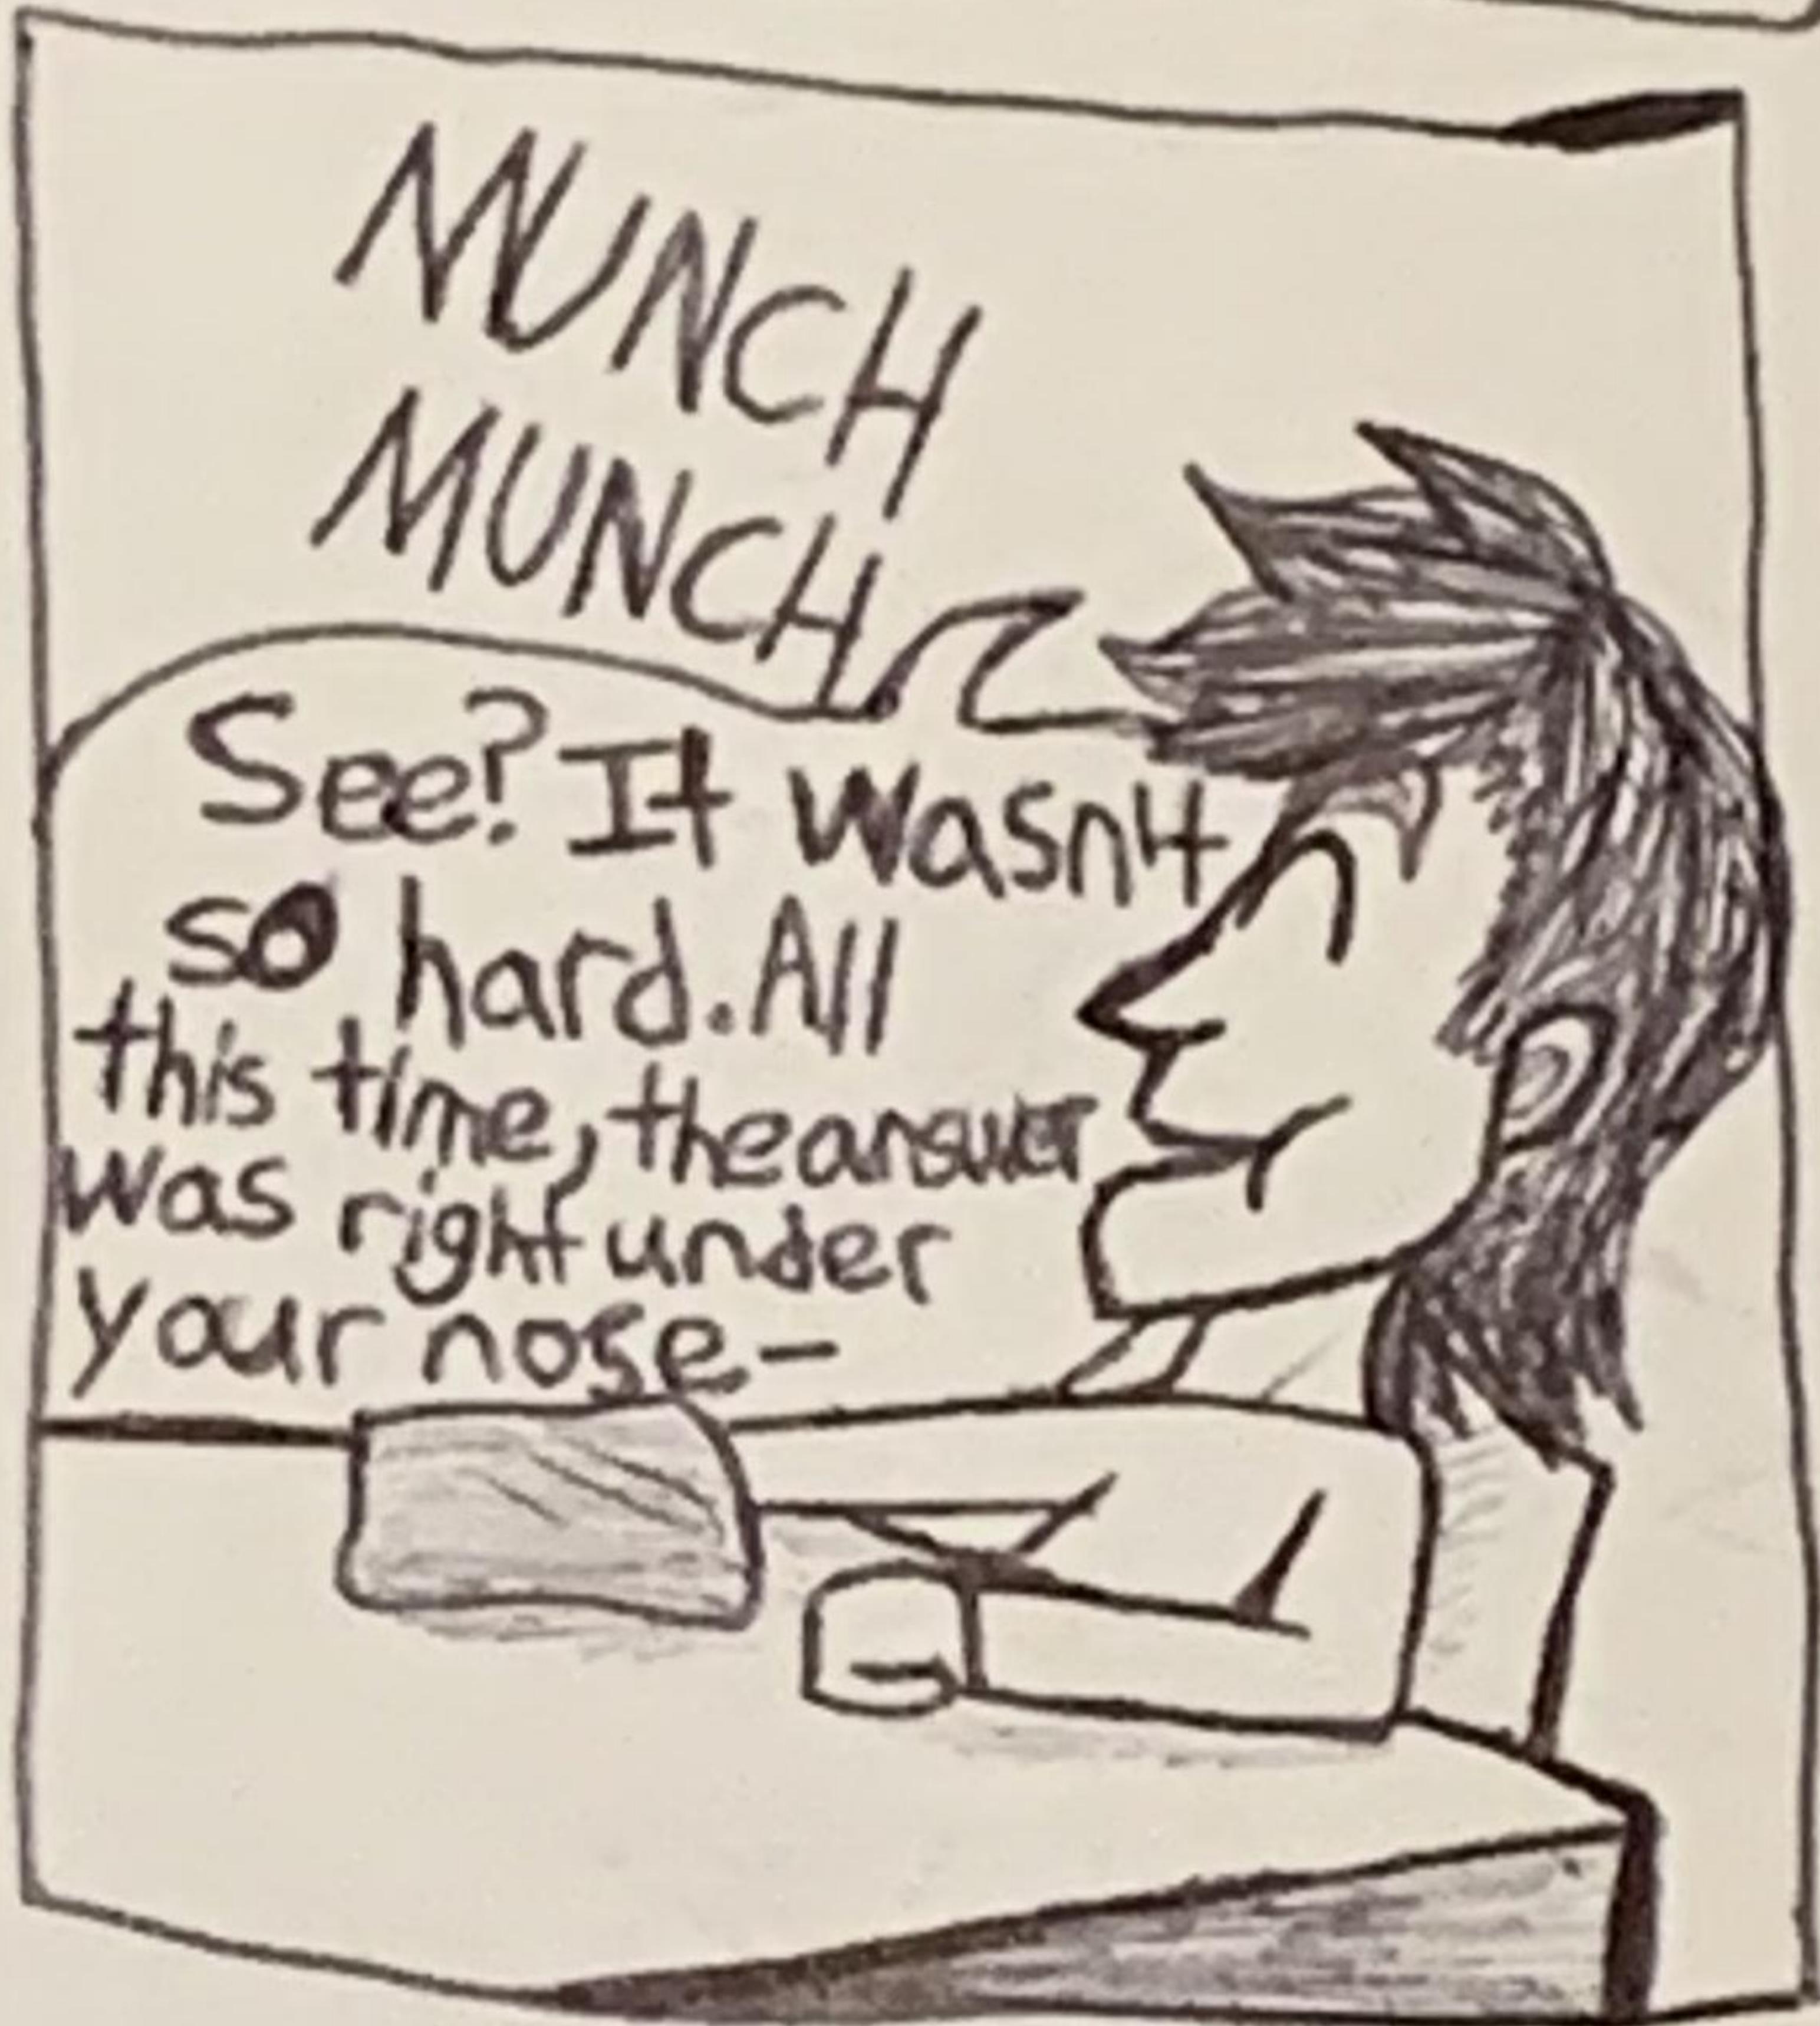

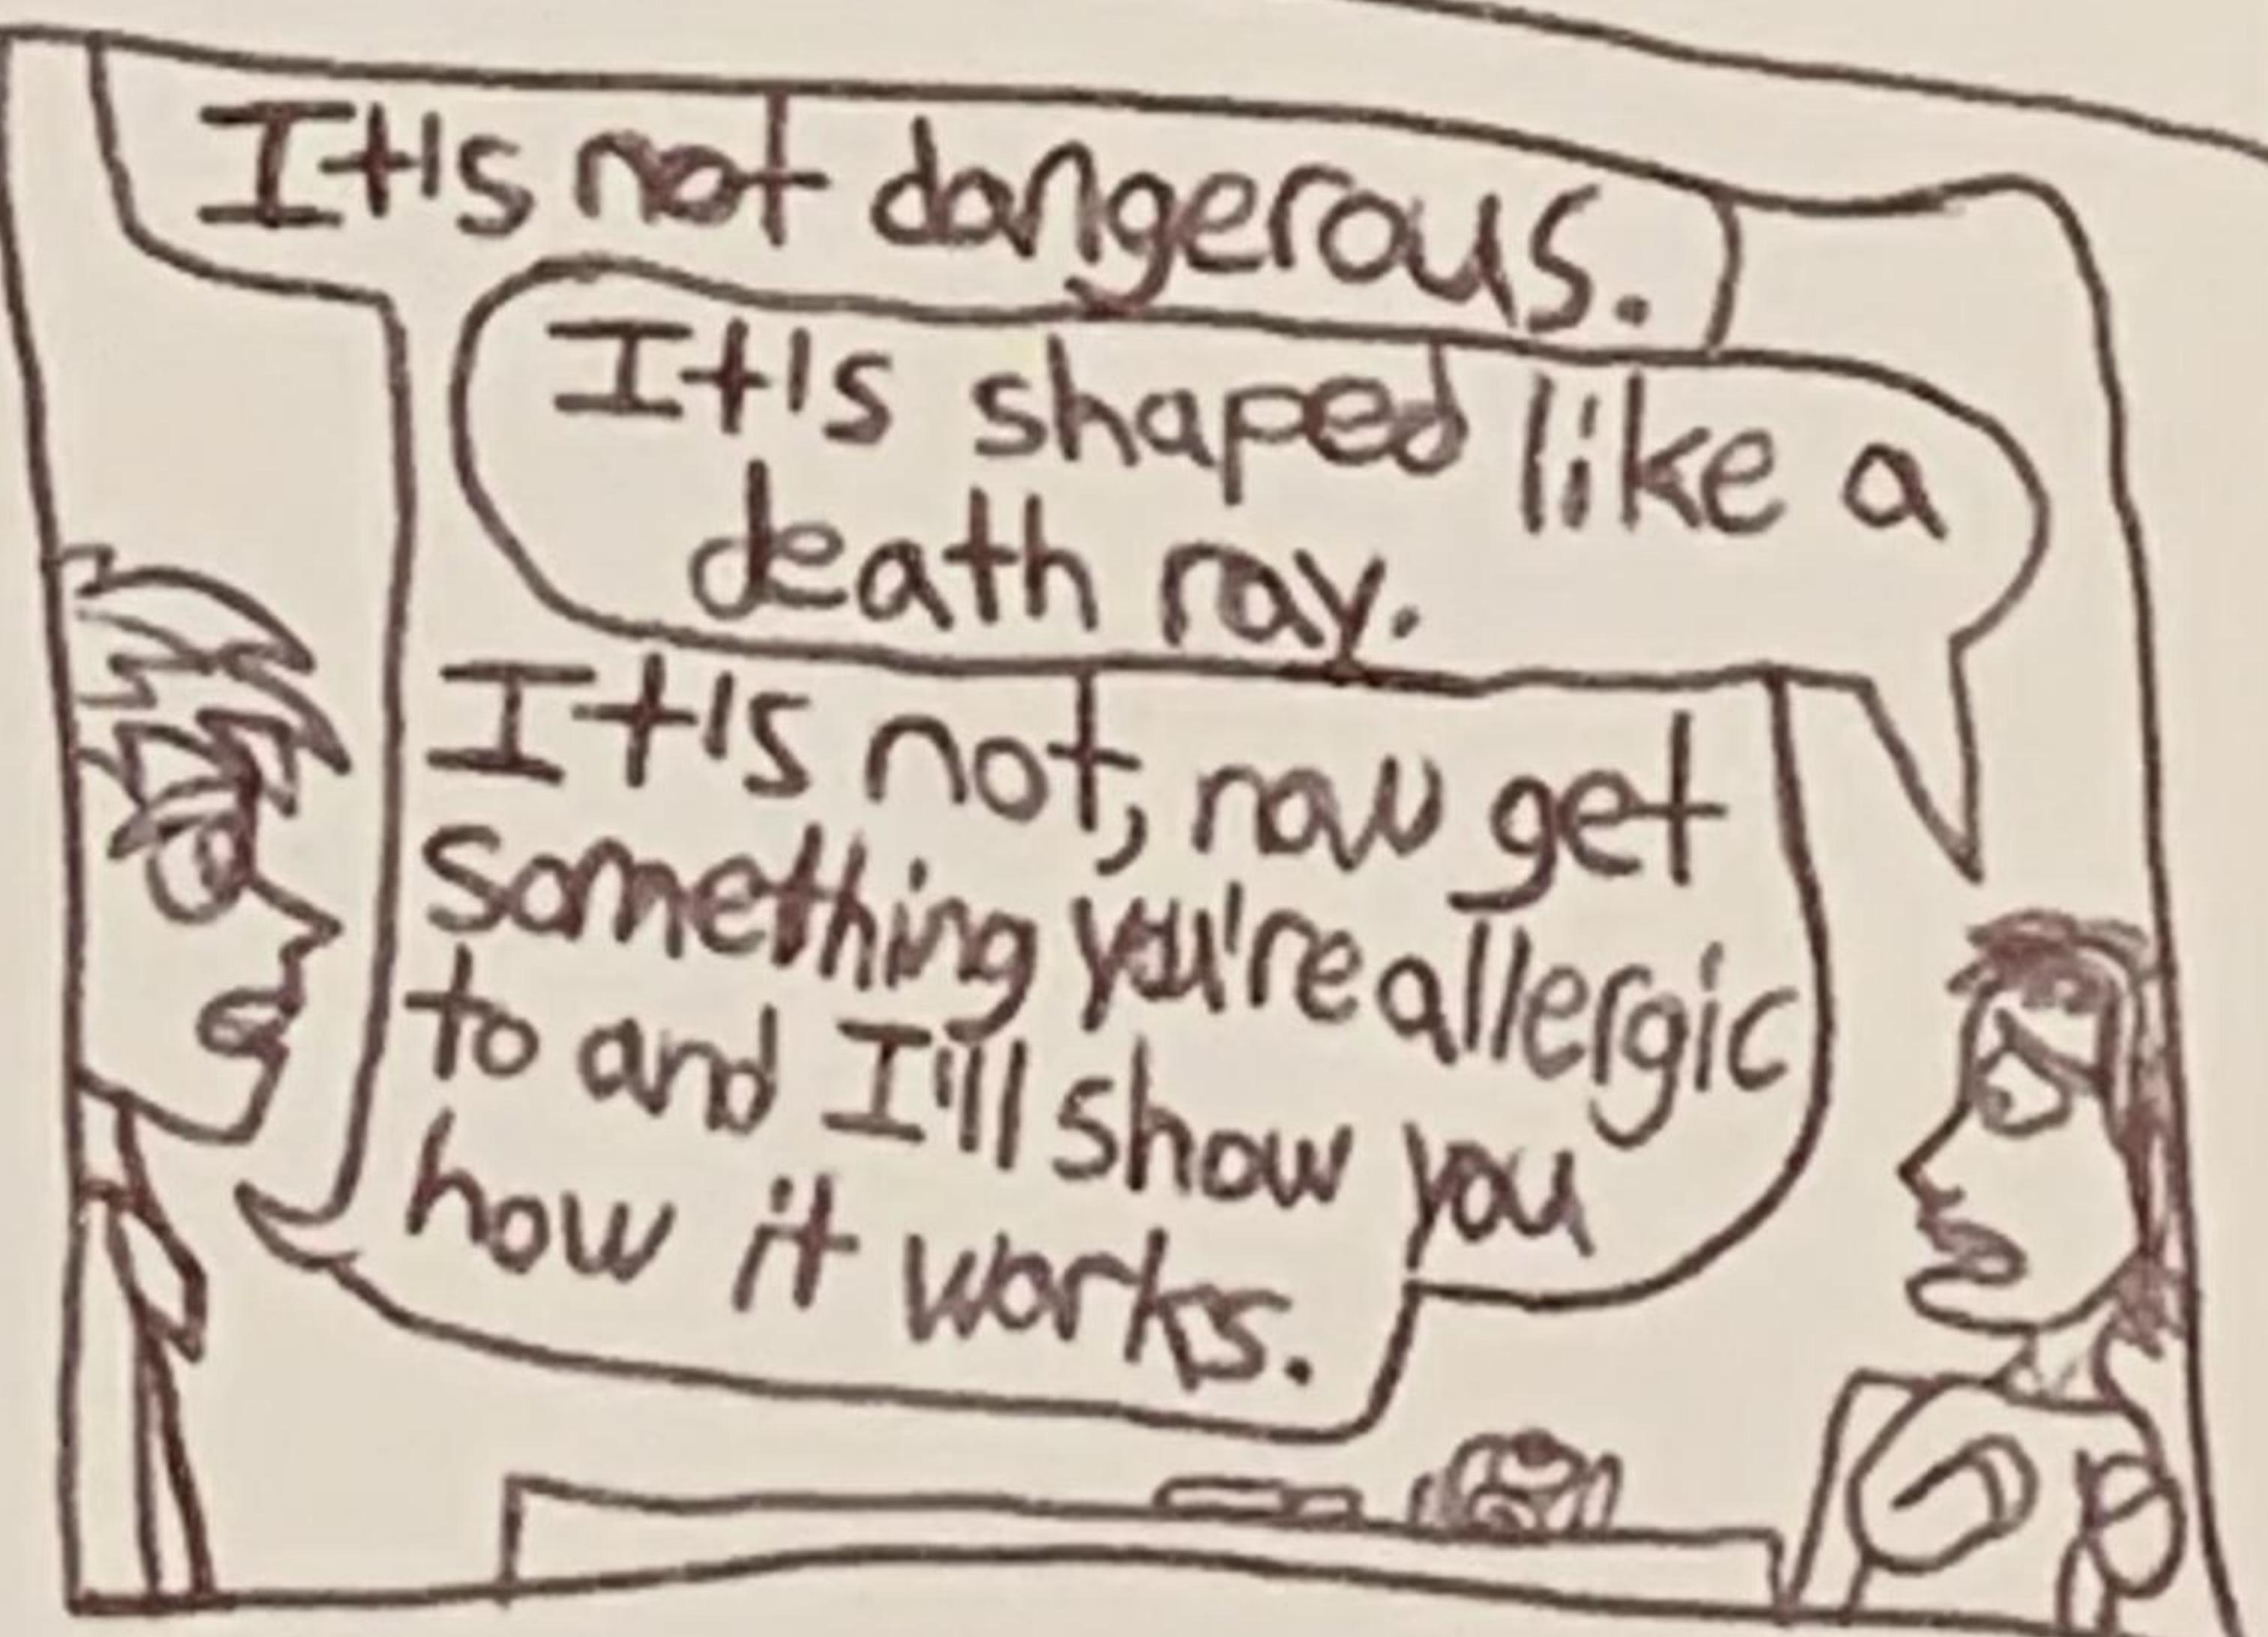

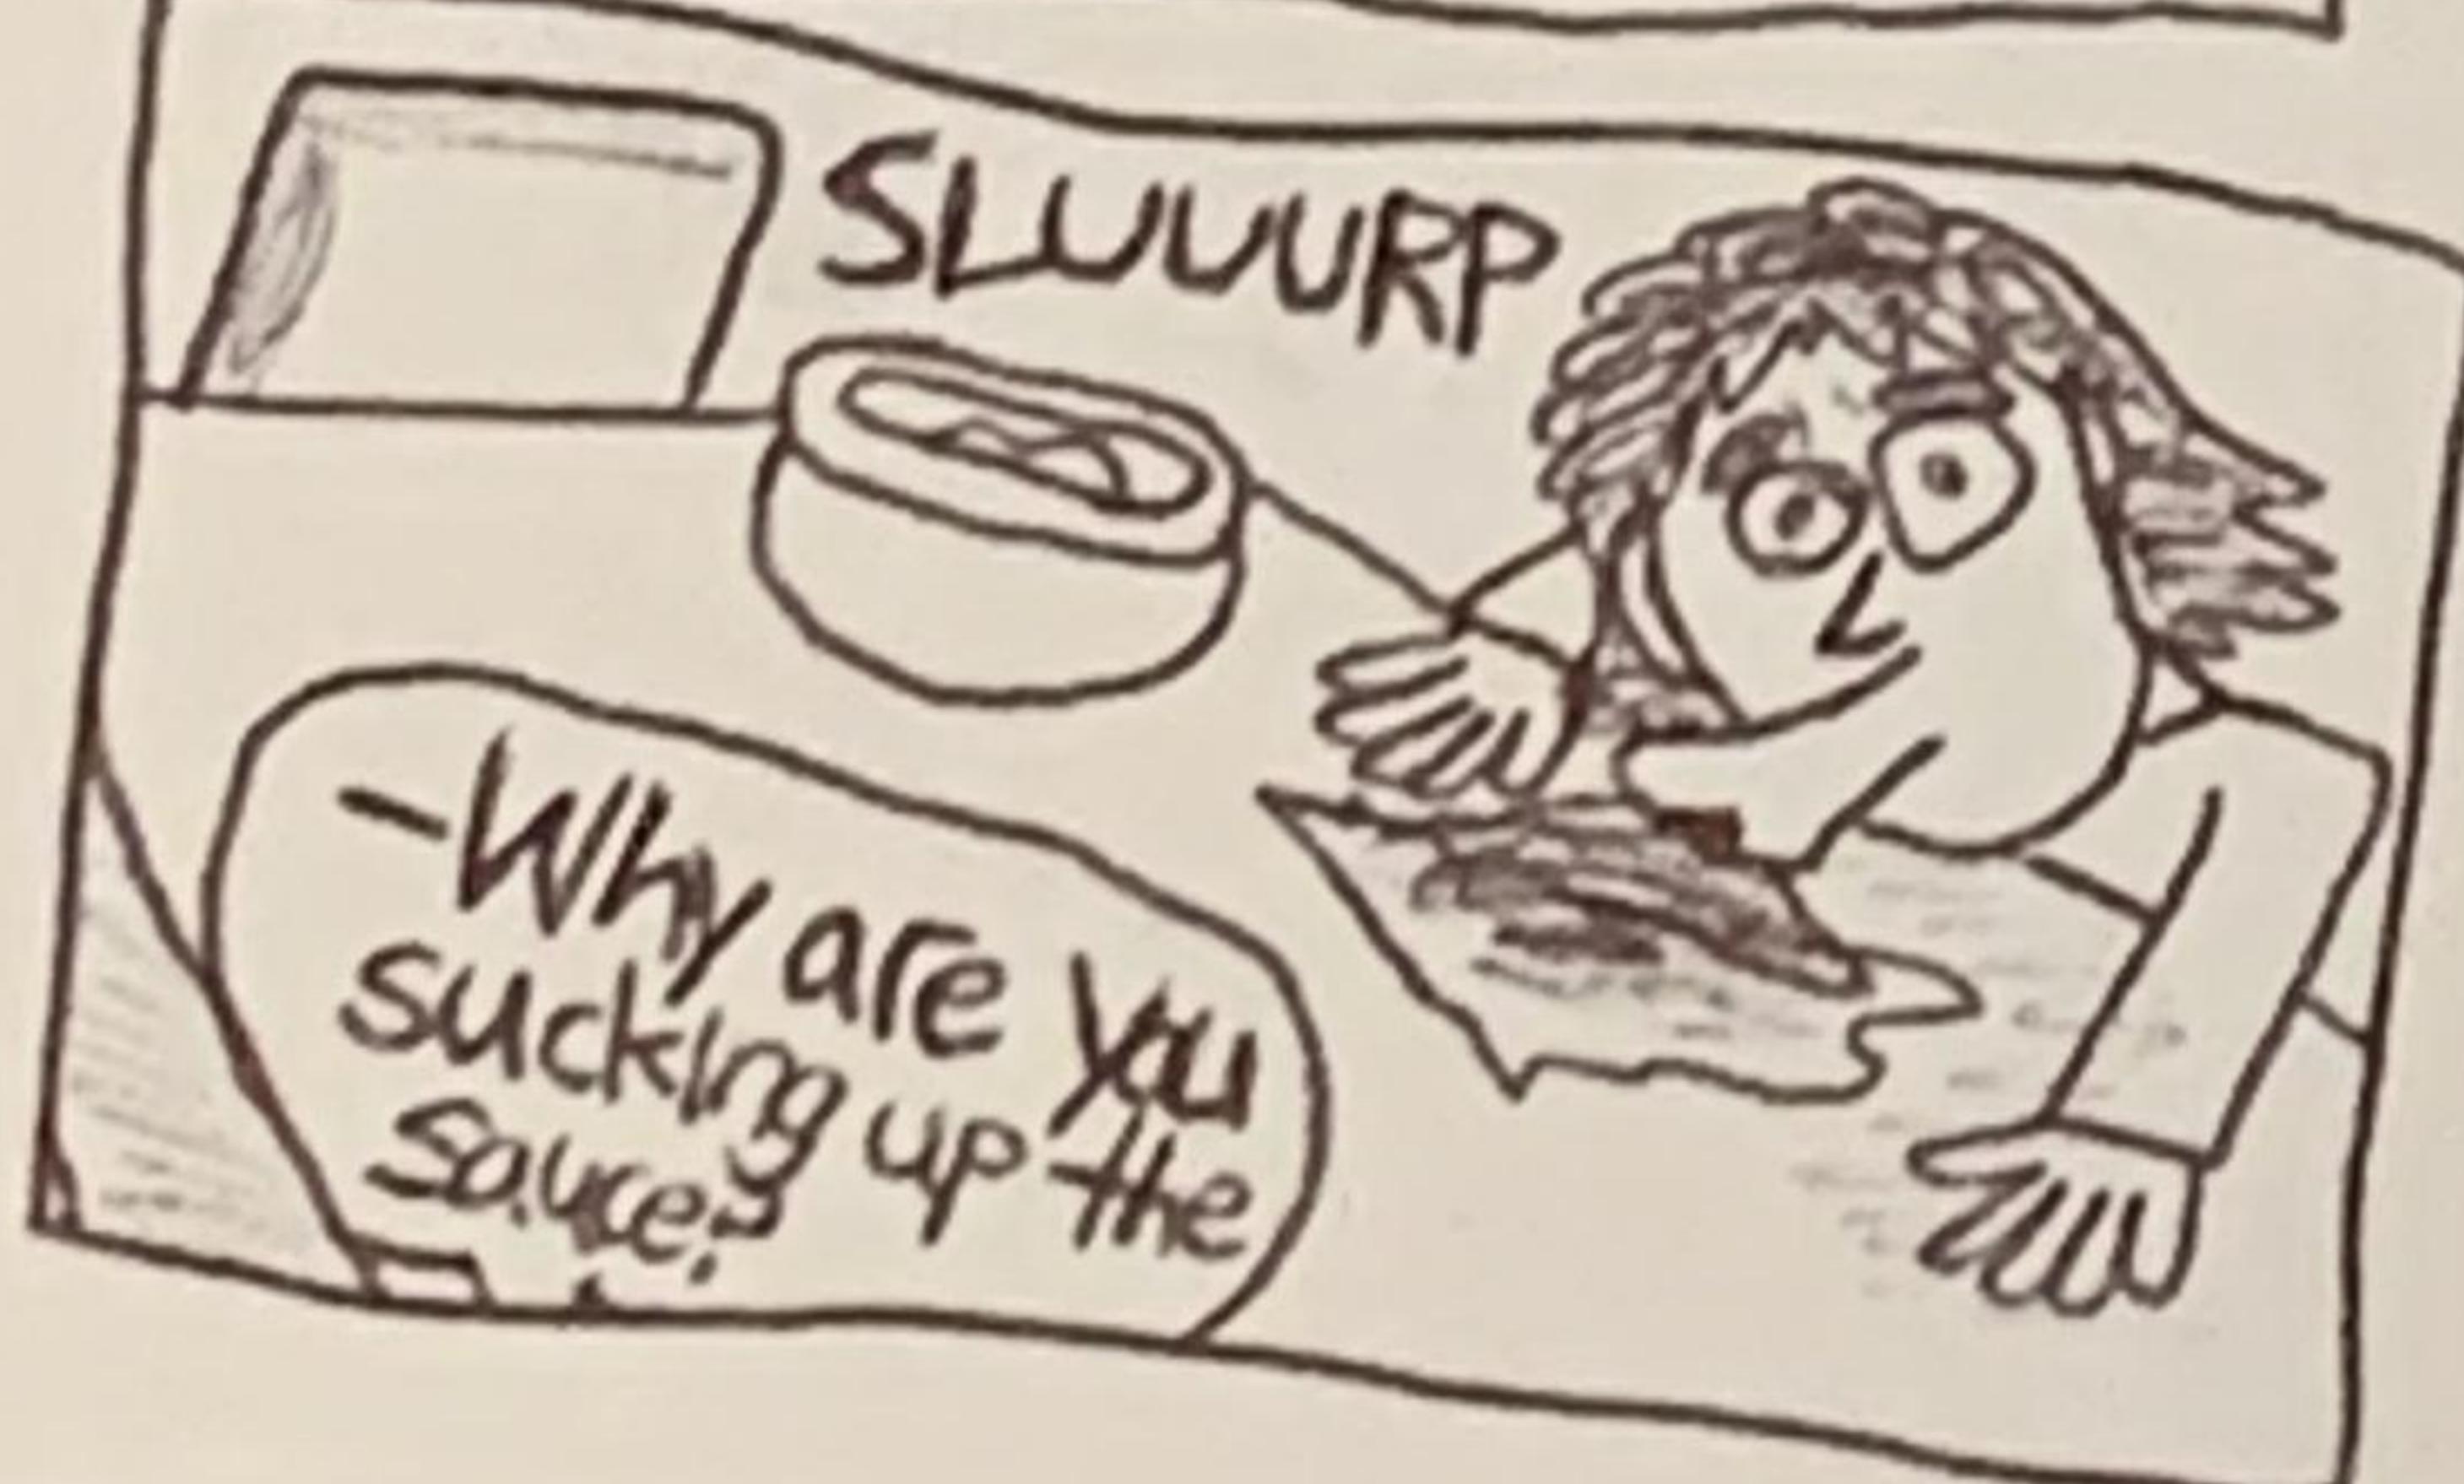

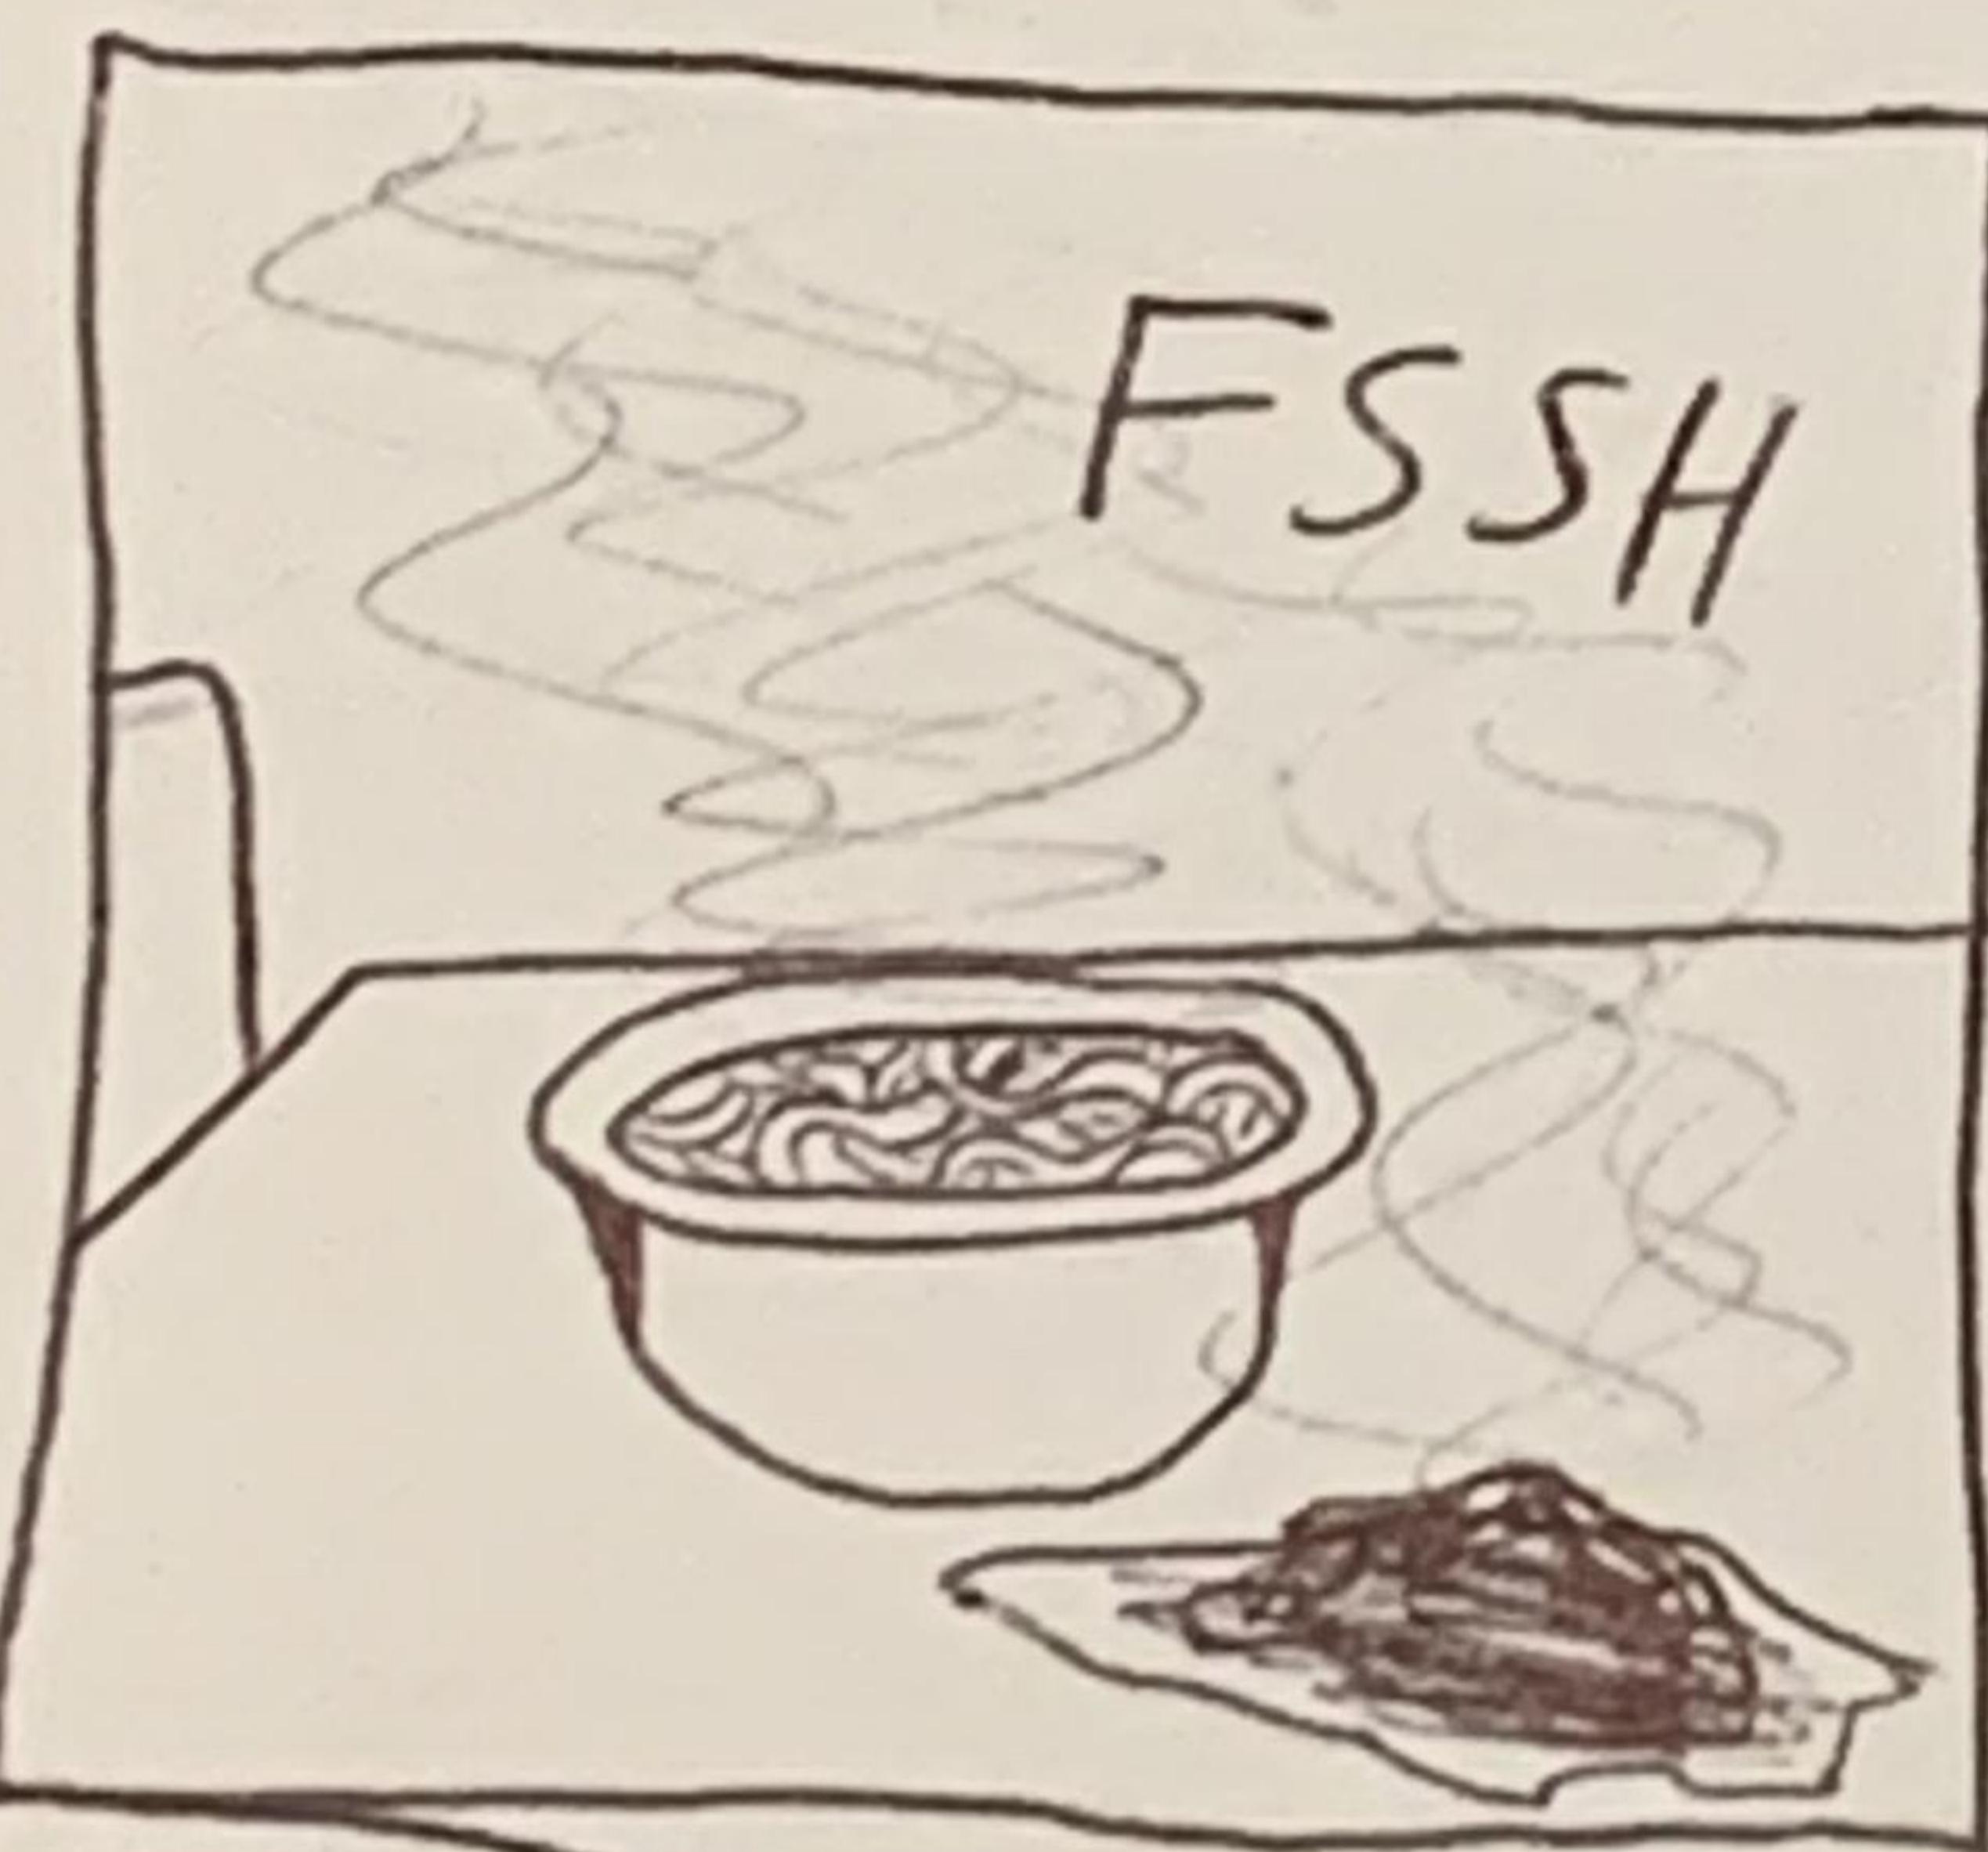

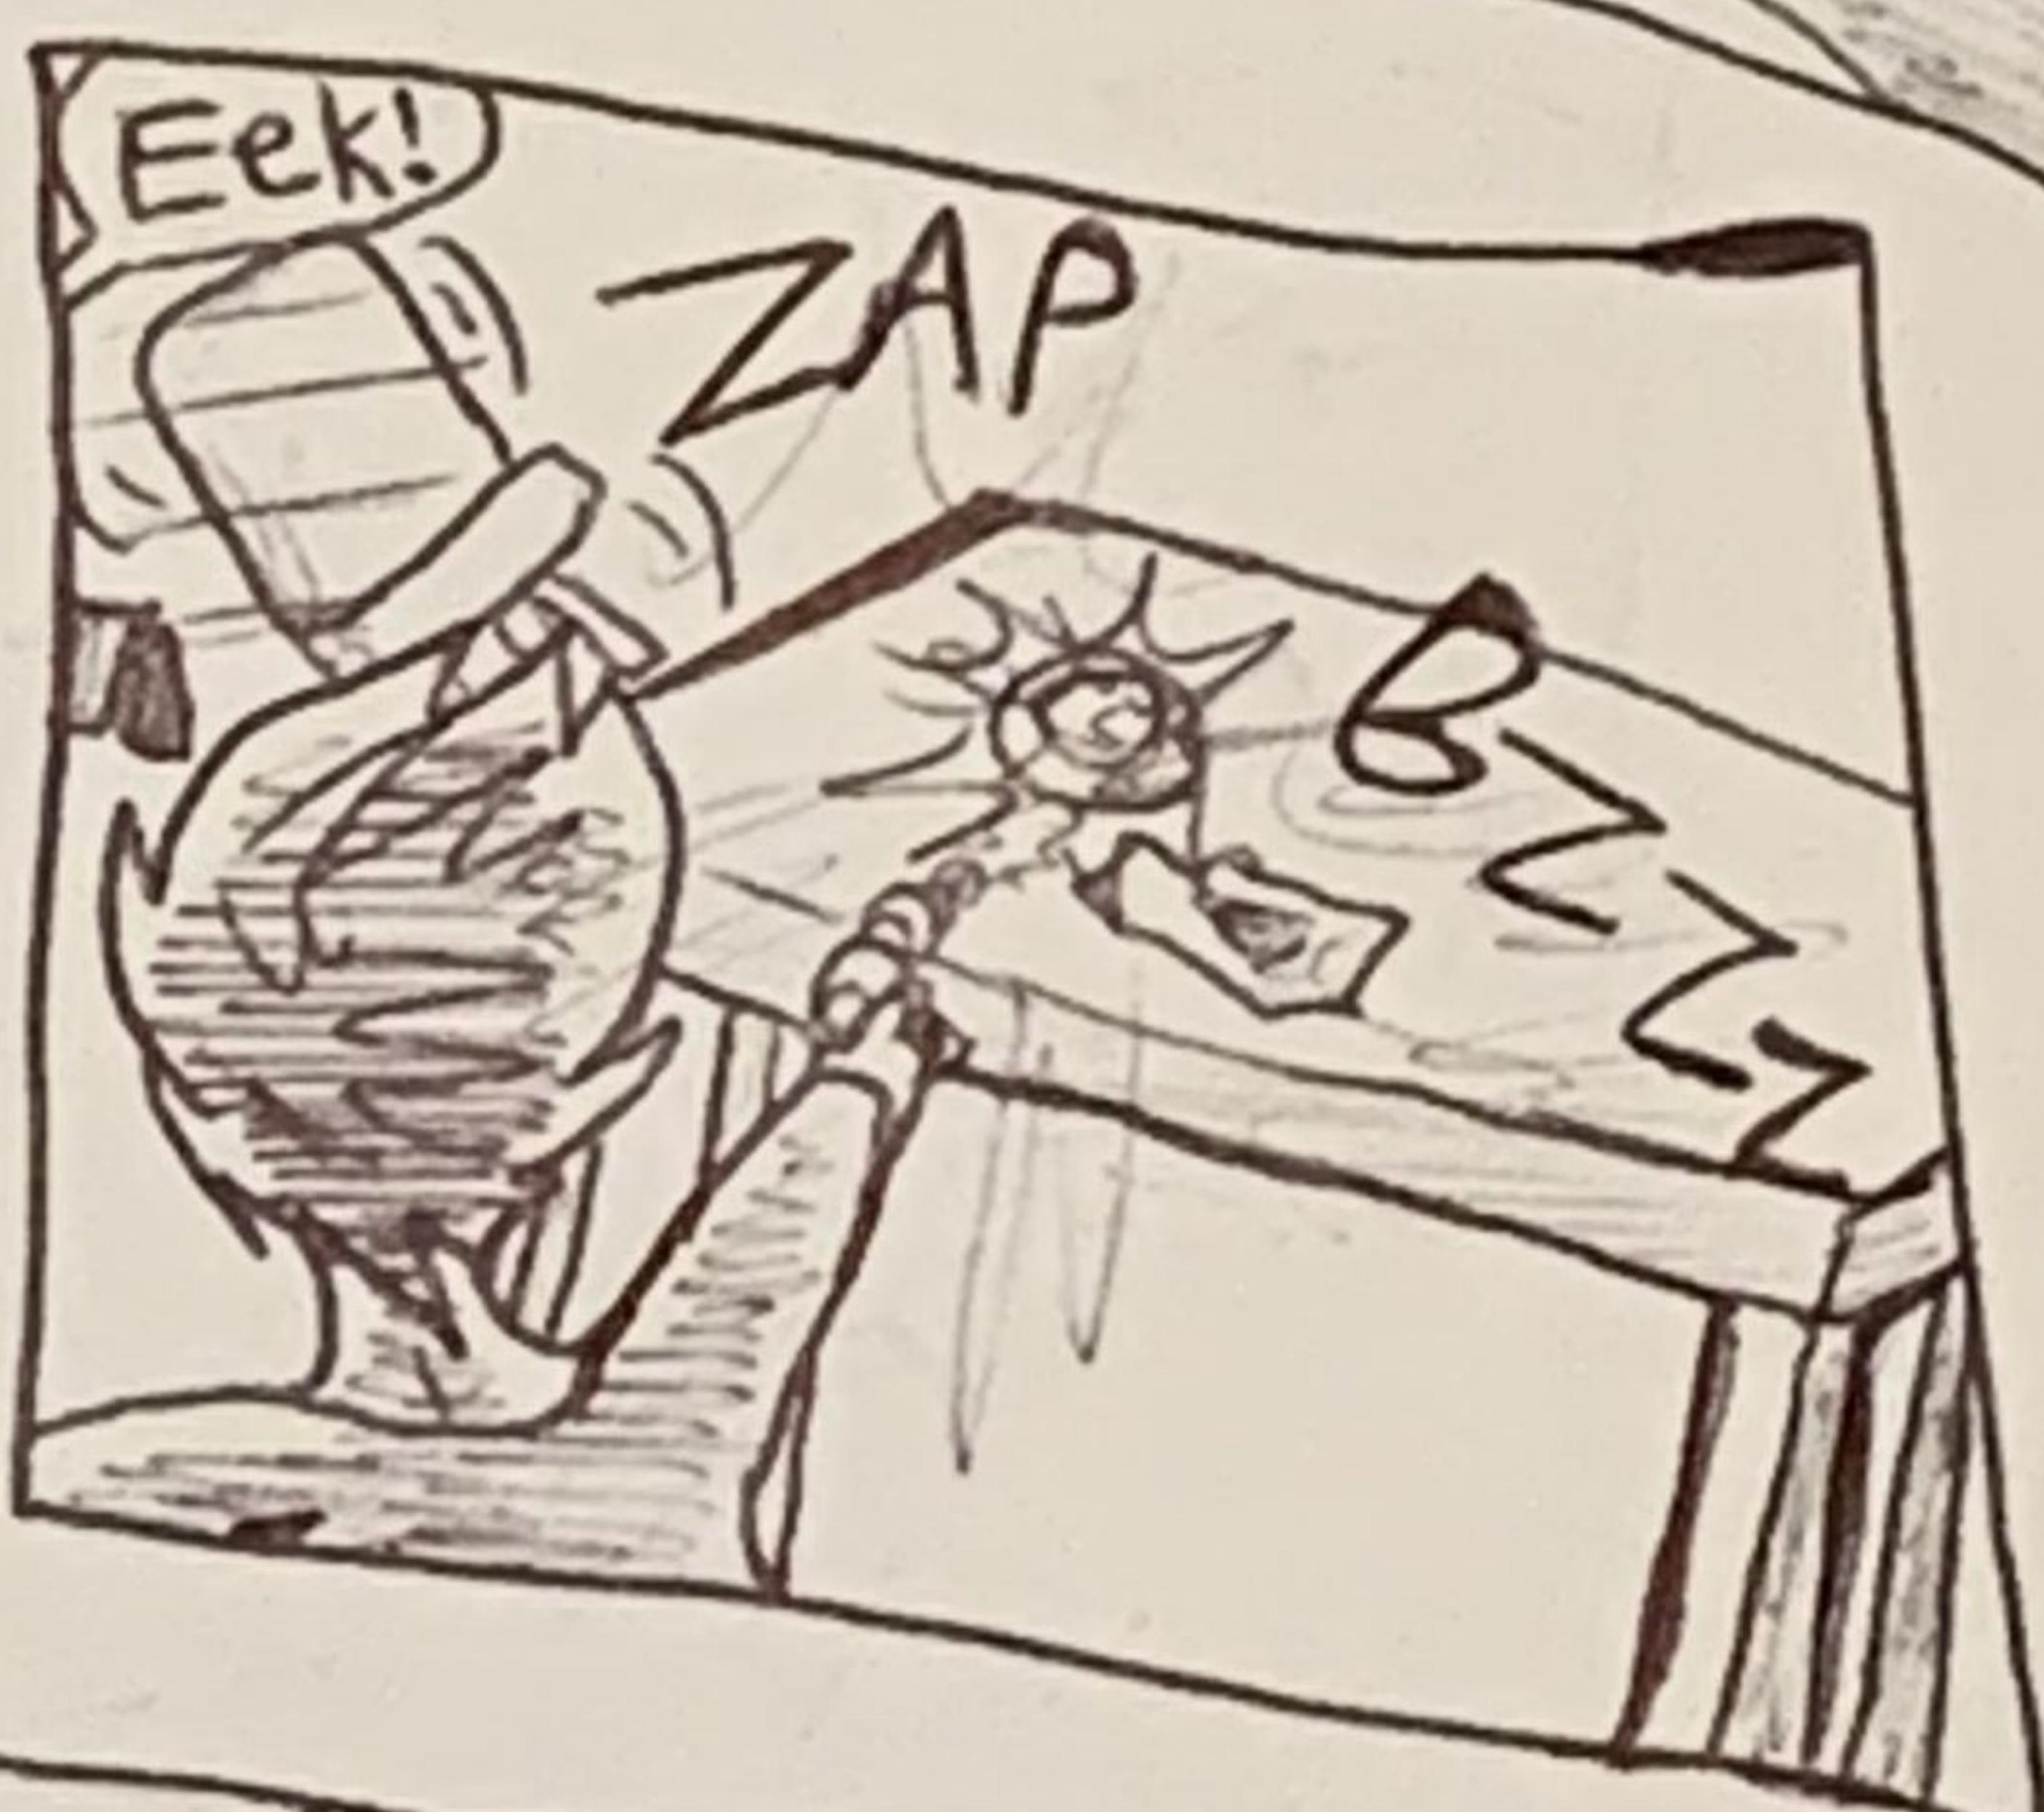

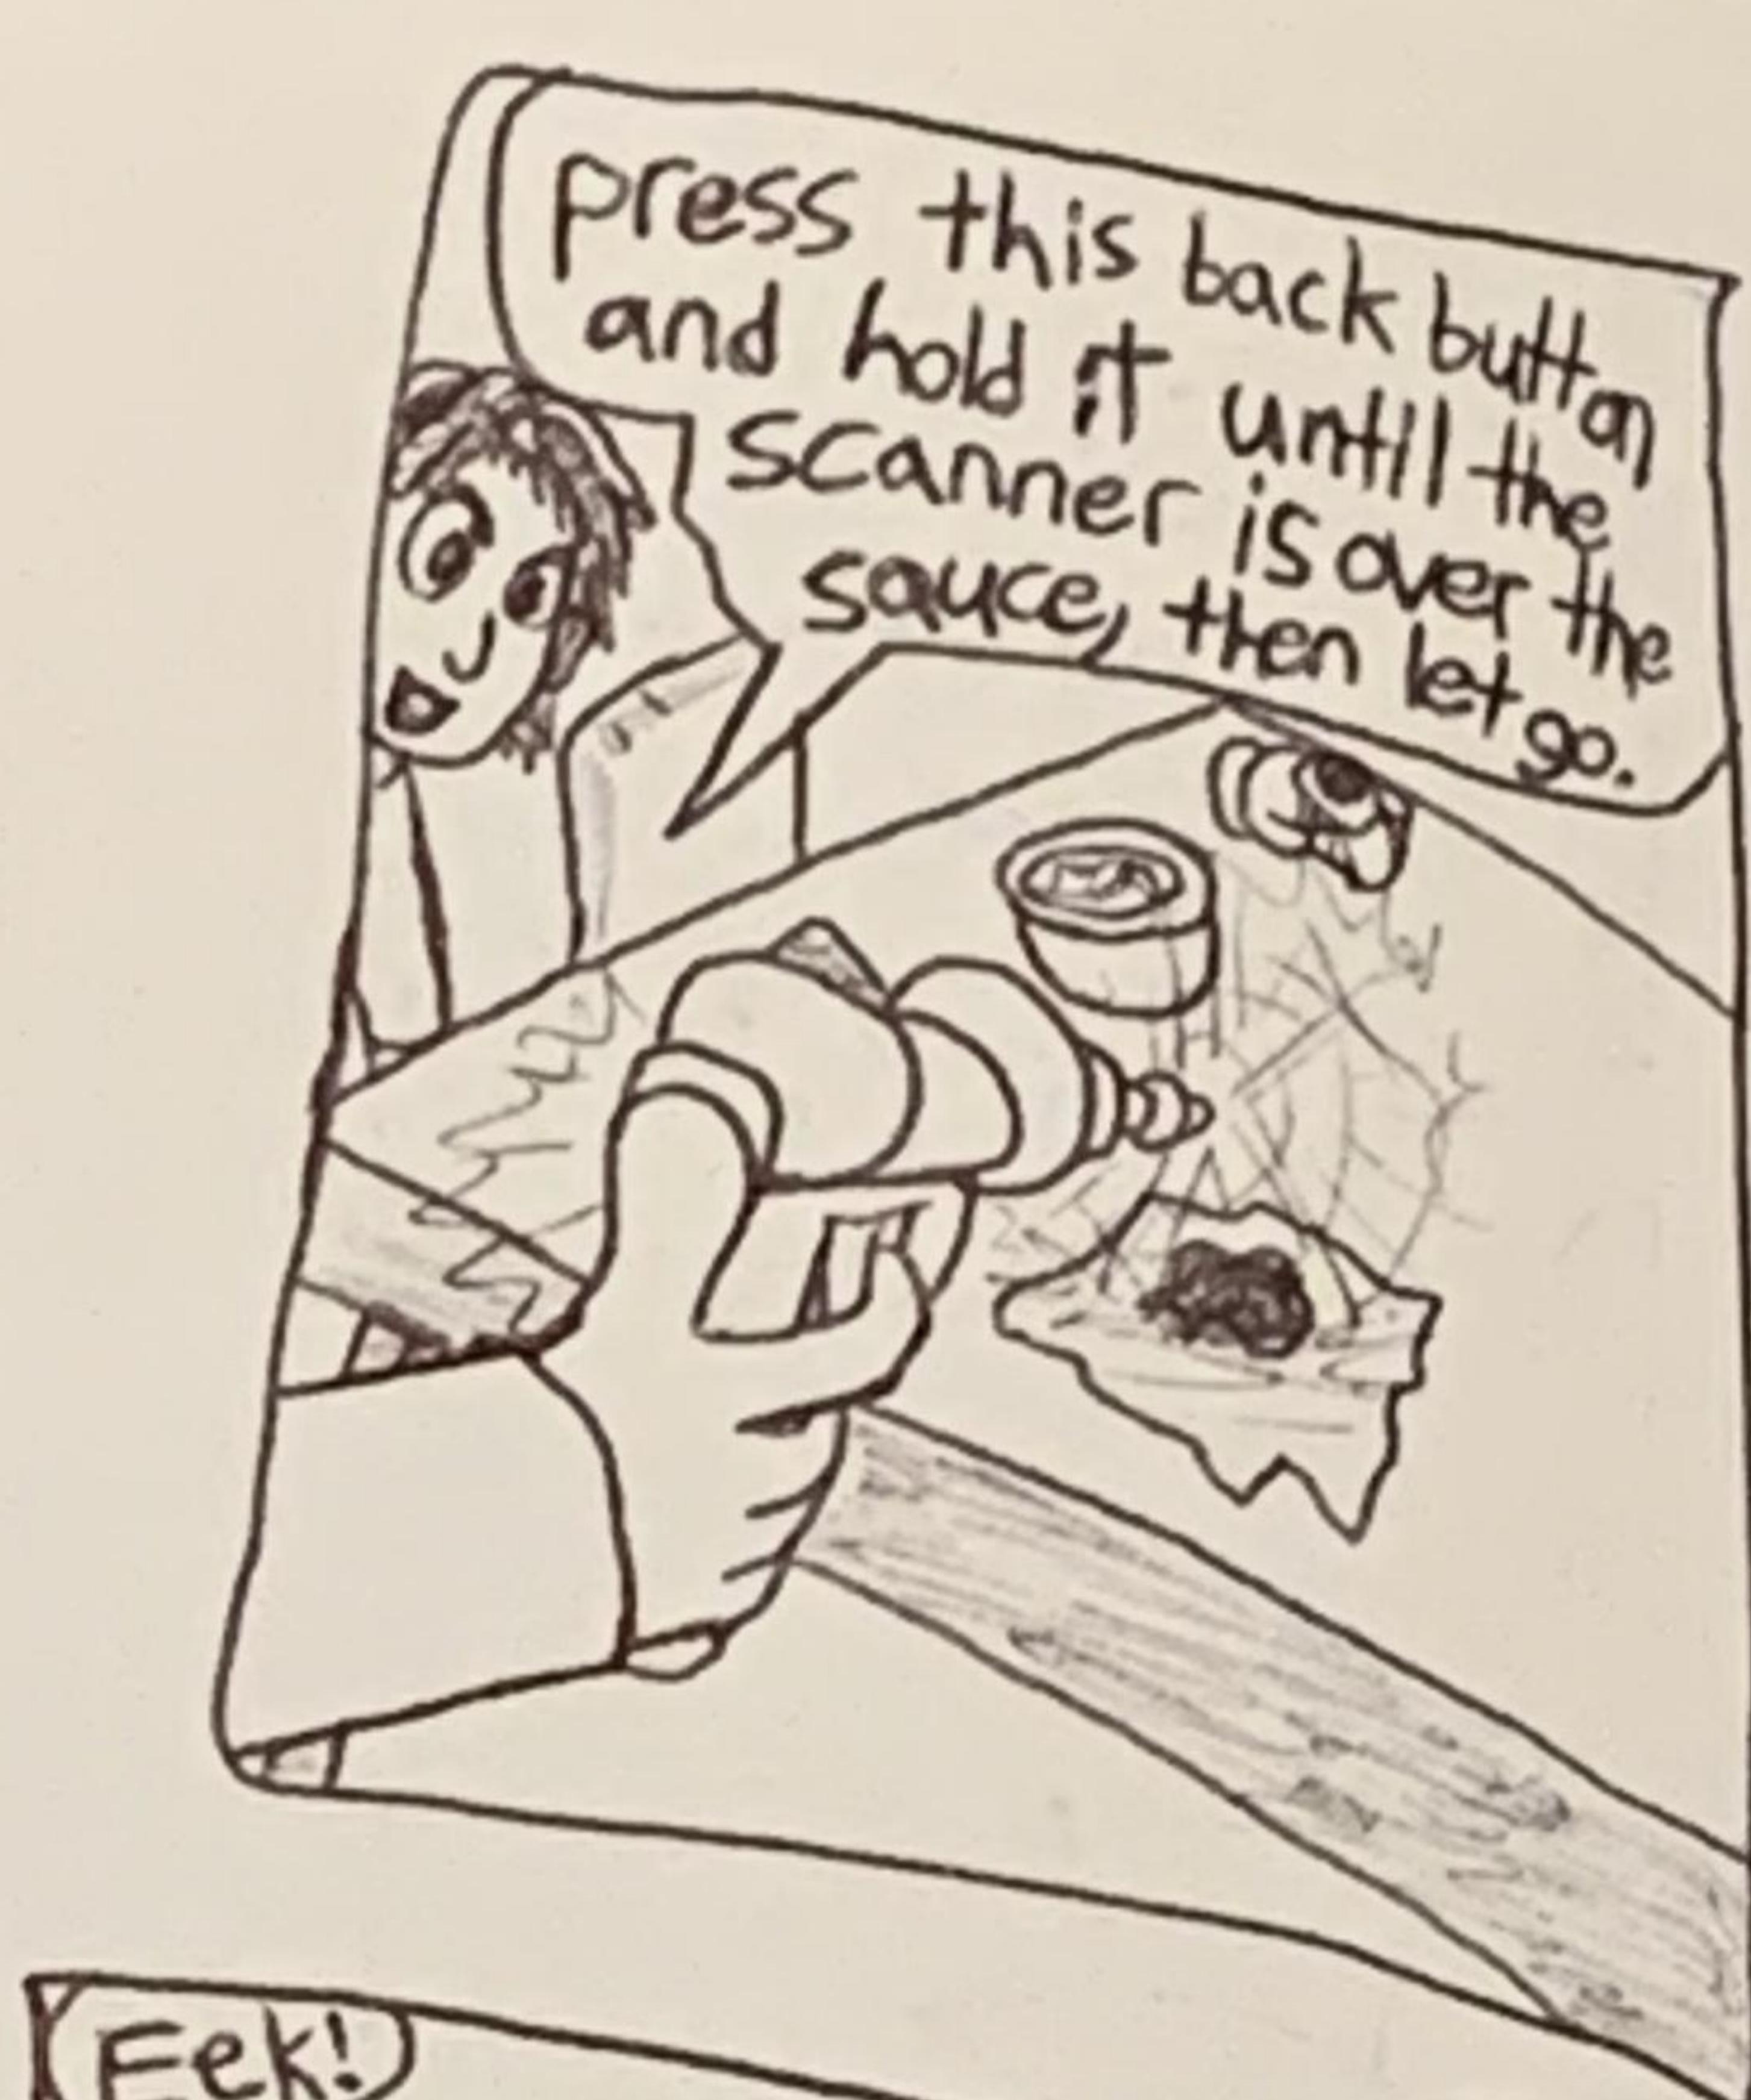

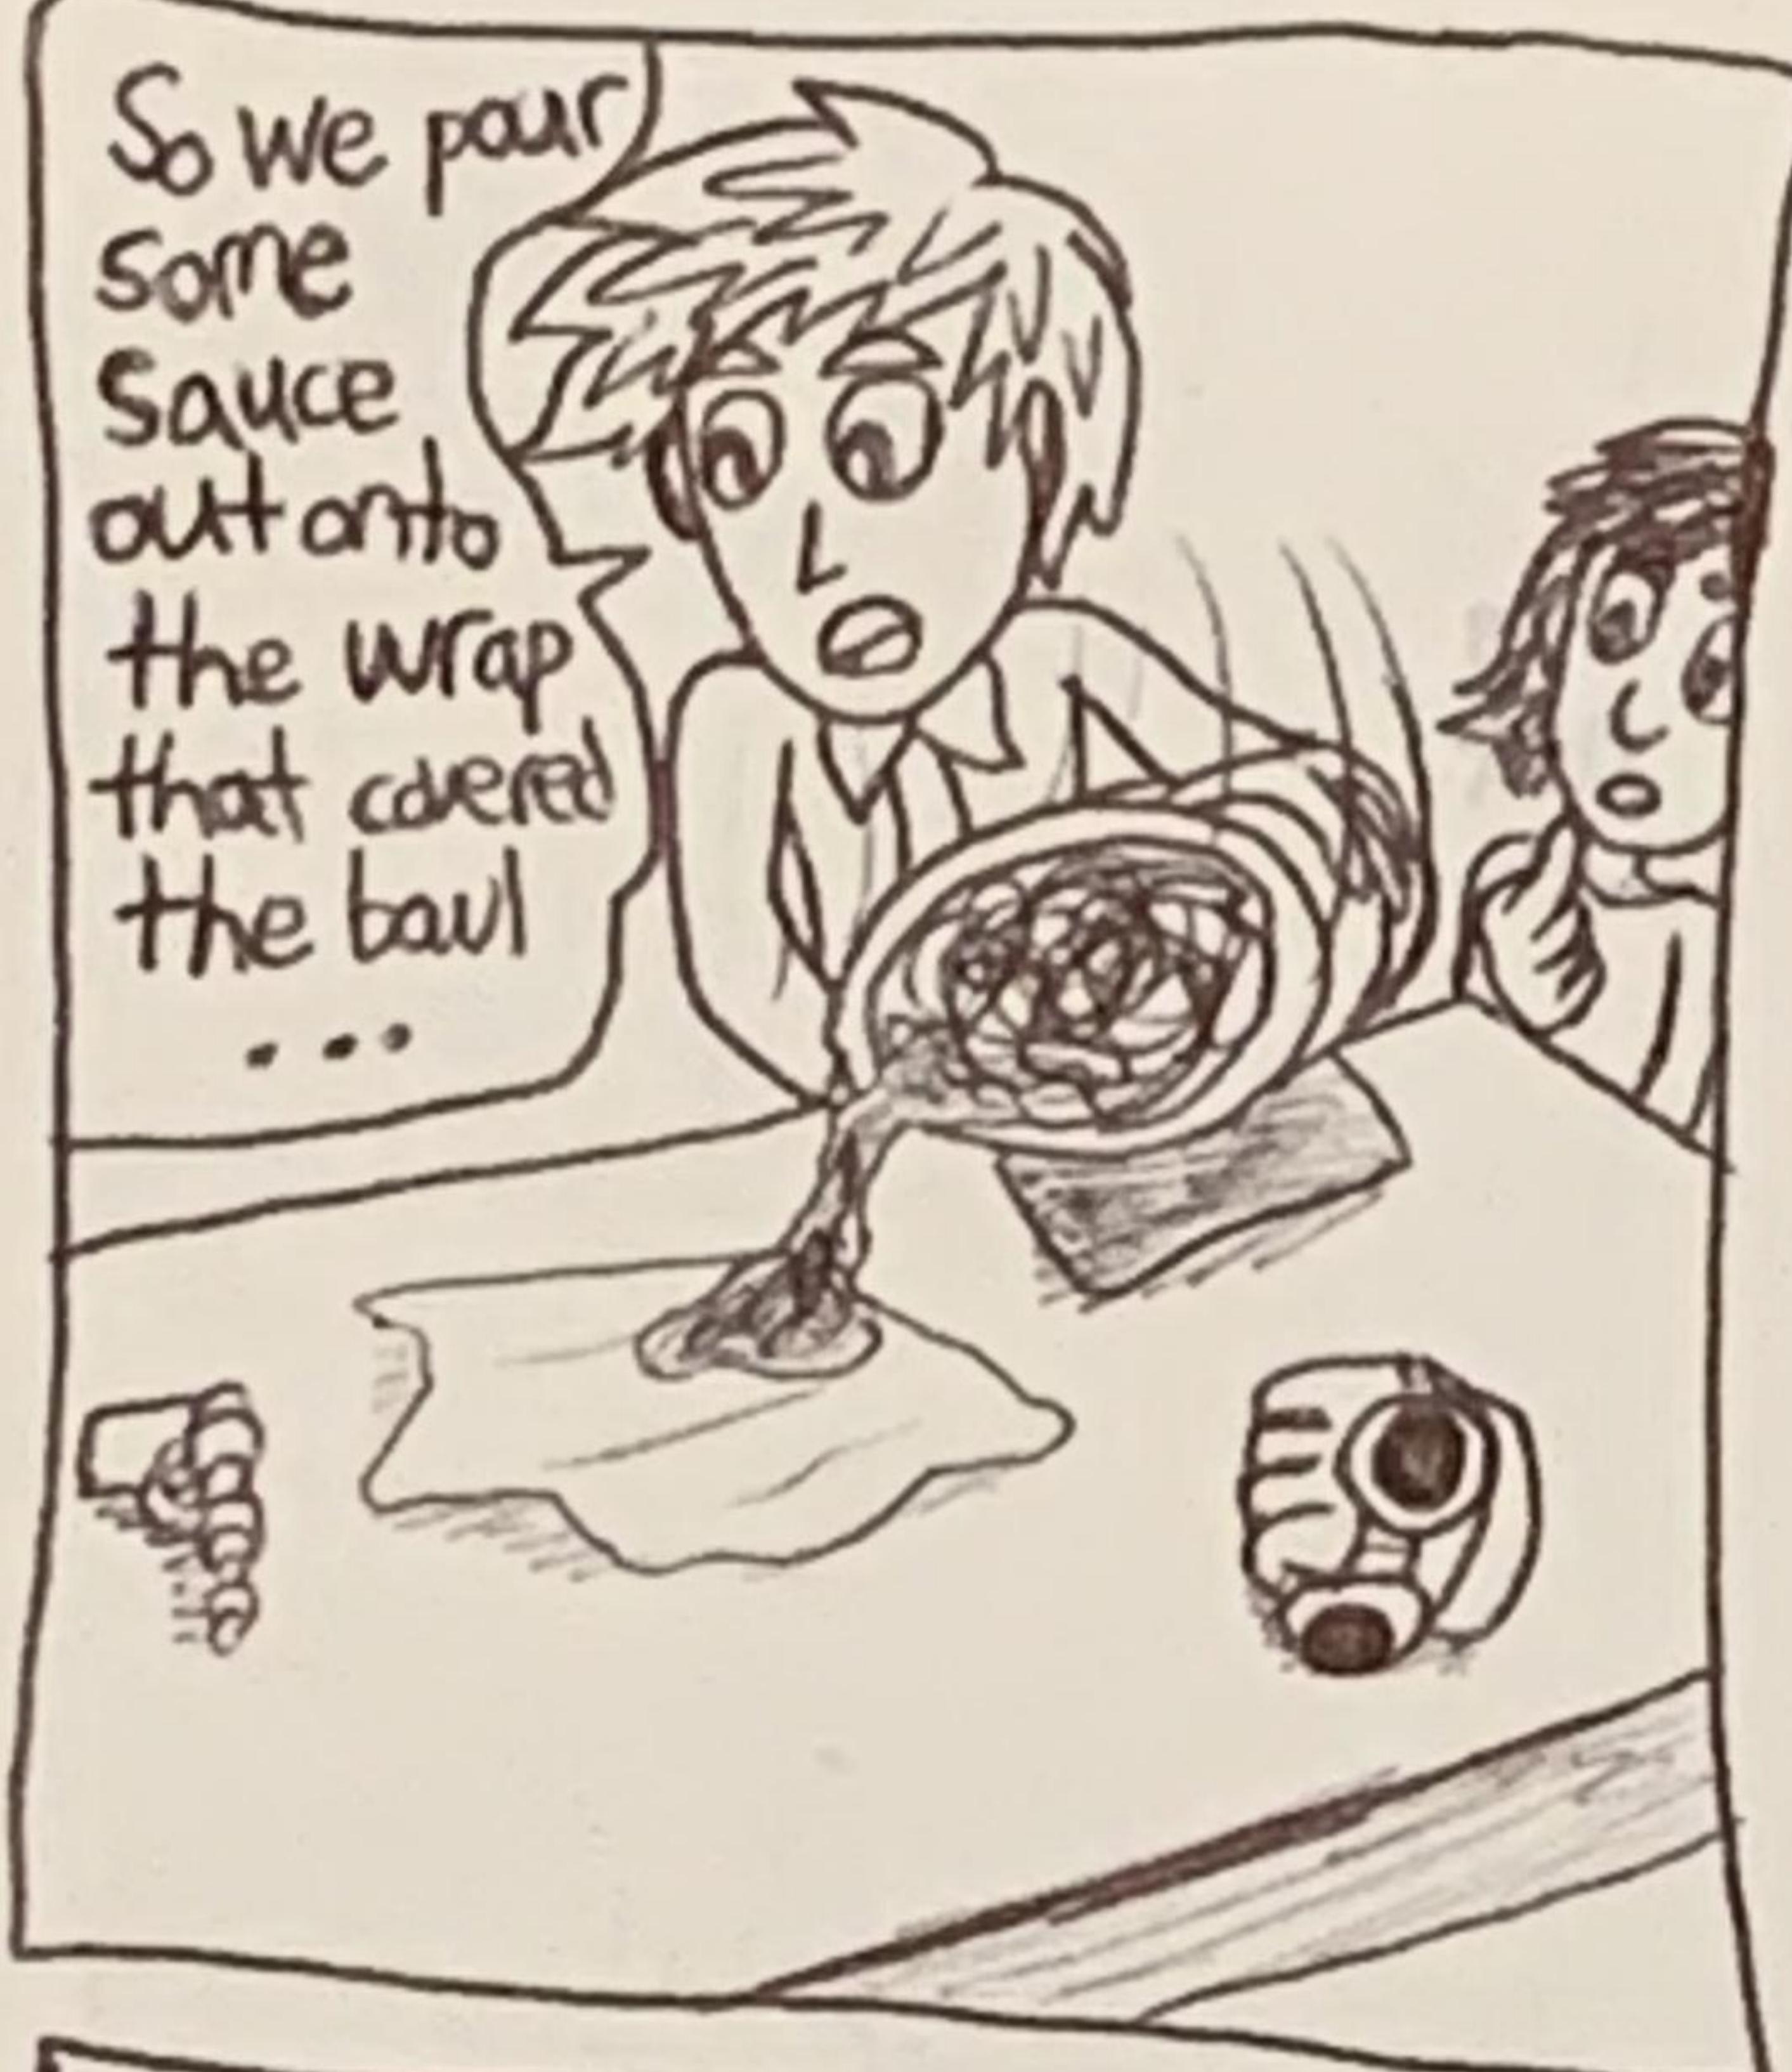

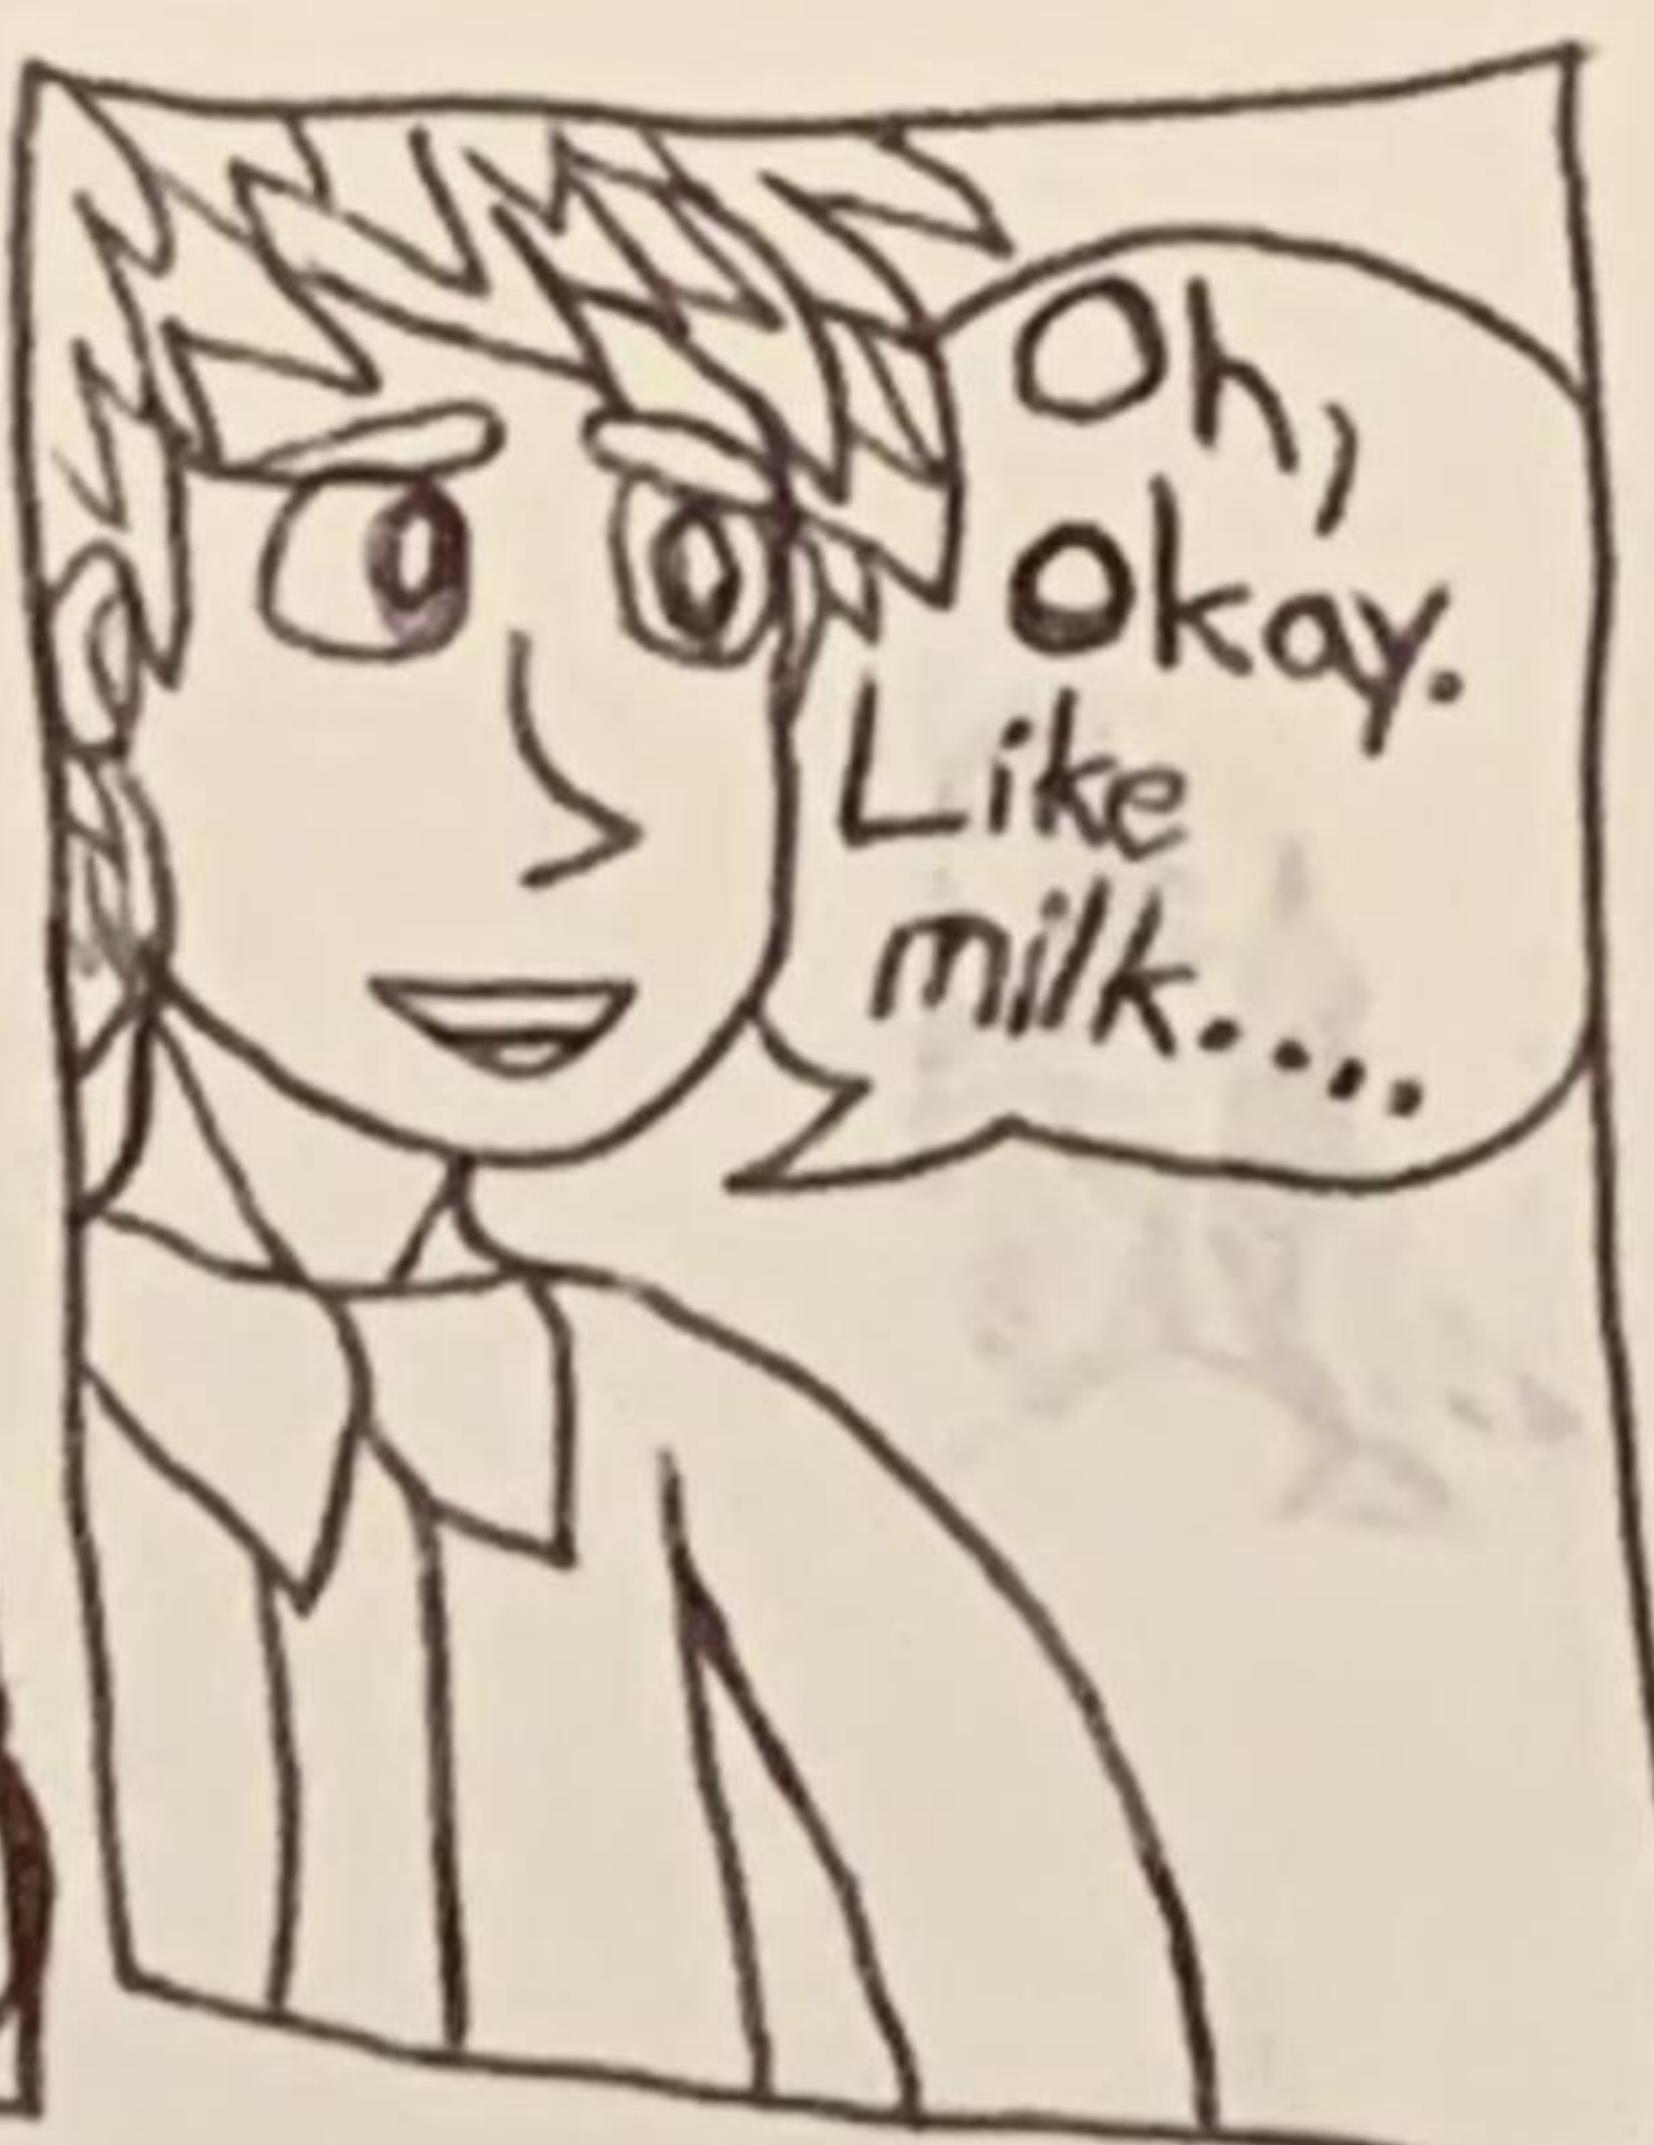

This is so pointless. I have no tools, no plan, and no idea what I'm doing. I can't focus, I'm in over my head, and every time I turn away, your hairstyle changes!

Allergies may end up being the least of this kid's worries

Normally spaghetti makes him break out in hives. I've never seen him enjoy eating so much.
